It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

PREFACE.

THE second volume of The Morgan Horse and Register includes not only the names of all horses registered in Volume I. but quite a number of old-time Morgan Horses, the knowledge of which has been obtained since the publication of that volume, and a still larger number which have become eligible as foundation stock through the new rule adopted by the Vermont Morgan Horse Breeders' Association, which admits all horses tracing in direct female line to Justin Morgan and having 1-32 of his blood. It will be seen also that numbers have been given stallions, following in this respect the usual custom of modern stud books.

In the first volume of The Morgan Horse and Register it is stated that Col. James De Lancey, from whom True Briton or Beautiful Bay was captured, was the James De Lancey who imported the famous English thoroughbred stallions Wildair and Lath, and the equally famous mares Cub and Fair Rachael.

The evidence sustaining the identity of these two De Lanceys did not come under the immediate supervision of the author, who, indeed, particularly questioned its accuracy, but as the parties considering the matter were both competent and positive of its correctness, it was permitted to remain. It was a mistake that should not have been made. And yet it appears (see letter of Edward F. De Lancey in Introduction), that Beautiful Bay was at one time owned by the importer of Wildair, and it may be still possible that he was bred by him instead of imported, in which case it would be again most probable that he was by Lloyd's Traveler, to which horse it is known that Captain James De Lancey bred his imported racing mare, Betty Leeds, and which horse it is likely may have at some time stood in New Jersey. It is on record that in 1773 Captain De Lancey's bay mare, Sultana, raced with Col. Lloyd's bay horse, Slow and Easy, at Philadelphia; and that was the year that Betty Leeds was bred to Traveler.

So far as we know there is no certain contemporaneous record by advertisement or otherwise that Captain James De Lancey imported a horse, or had an imported horse, called Traveler. An advertisement of Young Juniper in the Hartford Courant of 1780, states that "His dam was the Nancy, whose sire was the Traveler, formerly owned by Mr. De Lancey of New York." As suggested in Volume I. it is impossible to tell with certainty whether Nancy or Traveler was owned by a Mr. De Lancey of New York, but there is a suggestion that a horse Traveler may have been so owned.

The conflicting evidence to that handed down in the family that Beautiful Bay was imported by Captain James De Lancey and given by him to his uncle who gave him to a nephew, is:

First, the advertisements of Mr. Norton into whose hands the horse passed after he was captured, which state that he was got by the imported horse Traveler that stood in New Jersey: dam De Lancey's imported racer. Second, the last advertisements of Mr. Norton in which he changes the name of the horse from True Briton or Beautiful Bay to Traveler and says that he was got by the famous horse Traveler imported from Ireland. And third the statement in the contemporaneous account of his capture in the Connecticut Gazette of Oct. 31, 1780, as follows: "This horse is one of the finest in America; he cost De Lancey £200."

The account of the horse as preserved in the family should be, and we think is, correct. It is also very much strengthened by the corroborative evidence of Mr. Corsa, as published in Linsley's book, and referred to in the letter of Edward F. De Lancey. The connecting the horse with an imported Traveler kept in New Jersey, as was done by his later owners, would also seem to have some basis. His name also has pertinence. That of Beautiful Bay might have been given to him, and probably was, after he was captured. But it does not seem at all probable that his American owner would have named him True Briton, and therefore it would seem that this must have been Col. De Lancey's name for him. Then comes his last name Traveler given to him in 1795 by Mr. Norton, and the new statement that he was got by the famous old Traveler imported from Ireland.

The only possible explanation of Mr. Norton's thus giving the horse in his old age a new name would appear to be that he had information that this was a former and, probably, his original name. Then it must have been his name when Col. De Lancey owned him, or before. That Mr. Norton had received new information in regard to the horse is also evident from the additional statement given that he was by the famous horse Traveler imported from Ireland.

But whatever may be the full explanation of these partially different representations, they agree, at least they do not disagree, that the horse was owned by the celebrated importer of Wildair and the Cub Mare, who, it is quite possible, may have paid £200 for him. And whether imported or bred by him, we may be sure that Beautiful Bay combined superior breeding with great individual excellence; else he would not have been imported, or, if bred, would not have been kept entire, by so capable a judge of horses as Captain James De Lancey.

THE CANADIAN PACER.

In Volume I. of "The Morgan Horse and Register," pages 135-180, is an account of the first systematic attempt ever made to discover the origin of the Canadian pacer, whose blood appears so prominently in the American trotting and pacing horse.

The evidence there published shows that about 1814 Louis Dansereau, a successful farmer of Verchères, Province of Quebec, Canada, traded at Montreal for a black American mare, twelve or fourteen years old, which both trotted and paced. This mare that year he bred to a bay stallion about five years old, owned by a neighbor, Pierre Fiset, the produce of another American mare in foal with this colt when brought to Canada. The foal of the Dansereau mare from this service was a black filly which proved a fast pacer, and from which Mr. Dansereau raised nine stallions and three mares.

The first of these stallions was named Papillon, but is known better in Canada as the Vassar Horse, as he was sold about 1835 to a Mr. Vassar, a Frenchman, who took him to Detroit. After breeding this first stallion Mr. Dansereau followed in-breeding. His second stallion was Pilot, foaled 1823 or 1824. Pilot was sold in 1829 at Côte des Neiges, near Montreal, to Elias Rockwell of Stafford, Conn.

The sire of the Vassar Horse was a black pacing stallion, named Carillon, owned by Jean Baptiste Duhamel, and got by the Gravelin or Gascon La Rocque Horse, a roan horse, foaled about 1812 or 14, and said to be Dutch.

Of this horse M. Gravelin of St. Ours, born August 23, 1806, said: "The Gascon La Rocque Horse was a Dutch horse; my uncle, Joseph Gravelin, owned him at one time. He was gray or roan, about as old as I was. He trotted in the snow, and if the road was good, would pace. When I was four or five, mares came from everywhere to him. Duhamel's black horse was got by this roan horse of my uncle's, and I have often heard my uncle say that his own horse came from a Dutch or English horse. This horse of my uncle's was about fifteen and one-half hands high, un grand cheval. La Rocque bought him when a sucking colt of Vital Du Pres of St. Ours, and sold him to my uncle, who kept him until he was seven years old and sold him to go to the States. The Americans came and got all the good horses. He was built very different from the French horses. French horses made all to once, big belly. Dutch horses handsomer and finer."

Another witness said: "The horses which came from the States we sometimes called English horses."

Louis Dupuis of Contre Cœur, born Feb. 13, 1798, said: "My mother married Louis Dansereau in 1809, and from that time I lived with my stepfather till my own marriage, Feb. 7, 1820. M. Dansereau had no fast stallion before he traded for this black pacing mare with the American at Montreal. The Fiset horse that he bred her to was bay, rangy and well built, about fifteen hands, nine hundred and fifty pounds, that a neighbor, Pierre Fiset, owned but did not breed.

"The sire of the Vassar horse was the Duhamel Horse, of St. Ours, a black pacing horse fifteen hands high, one of those that was fast at that time. There were not many such. He did not look like the common French horses, but better. He was young, five or six years old, when M. Dansereau bred to him. After M. Dansereau got his first stallion he bred to him. After I married I moved five miles away from where M. Dansereau lived, but often visited and worked at his place. A good many mares and colts were brought here from the States and traded ; the mares sometimes in foal. The Duhamel Horse was a fine horse, as fine as the Dansereau horses."

In a second interview M. Dupuis said : "The mare got at Montreal could trot and pace, an excellent beast. The Fiset Horse that she was bred to, and that was the sire of Louis Dansereau's famous black pacing mare, was a handsome red horse (un joli cheval rouge), a trotter, and about the size and shape of your gray mare," referring to one of the gray pair we were driving, Louise, a handsome daughter of Motion by Daniel Lambert, and a typical Morgan, standing a little over fifteen hands high and weighing about nine hundred and fifty pounds.

"The old black mare Dansereau got at Montreal was all black, large, about fifteen hands high, a very good low heavy mare ; both paced and trotted. The young mare was all black with fine body, taller than her mother, and a much finer mare. Had to have double lines on her to drive her. She carried her head high, and had a good breast. The Vassar Horse was so kind a lady could drive him ; a perfect beauty. Most of the stallions from the mare pulled ; all wanted to go. I think the Duhamel stallions were the first fast pacers here. The Gravelin Horse of St. Ours was a roan pacer, over fifteen hands high, a fine horse. The Duhamel horses were about the same kind ; there were a large number of colts from each. The Fiset Horse was red or bay, fifteen hands high, un beau cheval, strongly built ; owned by Fiset and was five or six years old when the old black pacing mare was bred to him."

M. Chapdelaine, of St. Ours, born 1809, said : "Duhamel had two horses, a black and a gray ; they were pacers. I saw pacers before but not so fast. The black was a good horse, well made. He would trot too ; a good roadster. A man named Le Blanc had some pacers or trotters about the same time got by the Duhamel Horse. I remember this Duhamel Horse pacing on ice, and he was the fastest horse here. The Gravelin Horse was roan, fast, not taller than the Duhamel Horse, but broader and heavier, with wider breast. These horses were handsomer than most horses about. I was twelve years old or younger when Gravelin had his."

An old gentleman in St. Ours, born 1798, said : "I remember the Gravelin Horse, a pacer and trotter ; he was heavy, with a large chest. When I was fifteen they raced the pacers on the ice. When I was ten years old I saw them race after church. They paced ; very rarely trotted. There were some roan horses."

Madame Gravelin, of St. Ours, said : "The Duhamel horses were called Dutch. They were handsome and fast pacers. I saw both the black and the gray stallion that he owned, and also a horse that uncle Gravelin owned which I understood to be Dutch."

Pierre Mandeville, born 1797, said : "I was twenty-four or five years old when I remember the black horse of Duhamel. He was a fast pacer, un joli cheval. I knew Gascon La Rocque, but do not remember his horse. There were not many pacers when I was a boy. Baptiste Lebrun had a mare and a man named Gravelin had a horse. I do not remember any fast pacers before Duhamel's except these. Gravelin's horse was a pacer, gray, and before the Duhamel horses. I was married when twenty-eight years old. Gravelin had his horse before I married. He was larger than the Duhamel horses."

Eusebe St. Onge, Contre Coeur, born 1806, said: "I was married in 1832 but was unmarried when Joseph Dansereau had the black horse. I remember the Gravelin horse, a fine large horse of mixed color. I think I was about twenty."

Mrs. Jerome Dansereau, Verchères, born 1816, said, October, 1892: "I remember Louis having a black, fast pacing stallion more than sixty years ago. He raised several stallions but I do not remember their names. They were all good and handsome horses. I was told when a girl that those horses came from the Dutch stock; I do not know whether from the States or from the Indians. They were all good horses, fast and handsome."

Octave Dansereau, Verchères, said: "The father of Black Diamond was the Marchand Horse. The father of the Marchand Horse was owned by Louis Dansereau. Dansereau himself raised the father of Black Diamond; this I am sure of. The sire of the Marchand Horse was one of the Dansereau horses. Louis Dansereau had two pacers, stallions, both black; one of them had white legs; they were not brothers. One was the son of the other, and the oldest was the son of the first black pacing stallion, owned by Louis Dansereau sixty or more years ago. The first Dansereau horse was a Dutch horse; never heard of Duhamel horses. Have heard of Labonté's horse and have heard that he was of Dutch descent. I don't know whether the Dutch horses came from the States or from the old country."

Mr. Charles A. Achambeau, L'Assomption, says: "I bred the horse sold to Nel Bourke, and trotted him when two years old in 2:50. He was afterwards sold for $1500. The sire of the Bourke Horse was the Morin Horse. They called him a St. Lawrence. The dam of the Bourke Horse was a gray mare bred by me, got by a horse owned by T. Achambeau of St. Ligne. He bred him, and his sire was from the States. Simard bred a mare to the Achambeau Horse and sold the colt for $1200. The Achambeau Horse was a Morgan or Dutch horse, called both ways, and one of the prettiest horses that ever was—a trotter. Achambeau is dead, but his sons are living at Springfield, Mass. The Achambeau Horse was brown, fifteen to sixteen hands, and twelve hundred pounds, and was foaled about 1850. His sire was a Dutch or Morgan horse imported from the States. I was born in 1824. The sire of the Achambeau Horse, I think, was young when brought to Canada."

The well known horseman, Walter I. Prendergast, of Côte des Neiges, P. Q., said: "I owned Live Oak about 1845, bred by M. Privé, twenty-four miles below Montreal. They had there at that time about the best breed of horses we had in Canada. The Commis breed of horses were under size, but very speedy, a good many of them black and chestnut. They were very pretty, handsome ponies, and excellent horses. Many of the best of our horses have been raised about Verchères: great places for pacers; more trotters than pacers, but I think there were more pacers formerly than now, though a majority of the horses in my youth were trotters. What we called pure Canadian showed no thoroughbred points. They have short necks, are heavy about the jaw, very thick set, have stout heavy limbs, heavy manes and tails, some very hairy on their legs: they are usually speedy and a majority trot; occasionally a pacer. Bellaire* was a chestnut horse, fifteen hands high, owned some forty years ago by James Spaulding, at Mile End, near Montreal. The Bellaires were a good deal like the Morgans; had a good deal of style. In the real Canadian both the neck and head lack blood."

Jerome Dansereau, Montreal, born about 1817, son of Joseph, in an interview taken for us in 1890, by John I. Campbell, of Montreal, said: "When I was a boy my uncle, Louis Dansereau, owned a fast black pacing stallion, no white, fifteen hands high, which he sold when about eight years old to parties who took him to the States. [The Vassar Horse]. My father, Joseph Dansereau, who was a brother of Louis, also had a black pacing stallion, bred by Louis and a get of the first one mentioned, and that was almost exactly like the first one in color and size, and equally as speedy if not faster, [Pilot]. My father's was also sold to a stranger and I suppose went to the States. A man who had heard of the first stallion came purposely to buy him, and an agent or private party, supposed to be an American, bought the second. Three or four young stallions followed him from this strain, that were also great pacers, and some of the breed afterwards became great trotters. All of these horses were known about Verchères and vicinity as the Dansereau breed, and were the first horses owned in Verchères of note.

"Louis Dansereau trained several of these stallions to pace, and they were all very much alike, black, about fifteen hands high. We always remarked how much they resembled each other. Louis Dansereau trained the second one, which he kept three or four years after disposing of the first. He bred his mares to his first stallion while he owned him, and the second stallion was a get of the first and the third of the second, and so on; he never owned any but what he raised from his first stallion and his descendants."

DUTCH HORSES.

In the above testimony it is stated that the Gravelin Horse was from a Dutch or English horse. In this locality at this time the Morgan horses were called Dutch, thus Weasel, or the Fenton Horse, foaled 1806, and a son of the original Morgan horse, is advertised in the Danville, Vt., North Star, of 1810 as follows:

"The Dutch horse Weasel, a horse four years old, will stand at the stable of the subscriber, one mile north of St. Johnsbury Plains. Terms, one to three dollars; said horse is 15 hands high, stout built, and sired by the full blooded Dutch horse that stood at St. Johnsbury last season." A similar advertisement appears in 1811.

* Bred by a farmer near L'Assomption, P. Q., and said to be by Defiance, son of Cock of the Rock by Duroc.

In an advertisement of the Hawkins Horse, foaled about 1806, and another son of the original Morgan horse, in the Danville North Star in May 1817, it is stated that "Young Traveler is descended from the old Dutch Goss horse [Justin Morgan] and as he is generally known a particular description is deemed unnecessary. OLNEY HAWKINS."

Before the next season Olney Hawkins sold him to his brother, Stephen Hawkins of St. Johnsbury, who advertised him in the Danville North Star of May 18, 1818, as the part Dutch horse formerly owned by Olney Hawkins of St. Johnsbury. Soon afterwards the horse went to Stanstead, Canada, where he was advertised in the Danville North Star of May, 1820, as follows:

"Improve your breed of horses! The celebrated Dutch horse, formerly owned by Stephen Hawkins, will stand in the stable of Robert Rogers every day in the week on Stanstead Plains the coming season."

He remained at Stanstead probably till 1824, and was owned the latter part of the time by John Johnson by whom the following advertisement was inserted in the Stanstead Journal, May, 1823:

"The celebrated Dutch horse, called the Hawkins Horse, ten years old this year, will stand at the subscriber's stable, in Stanstead Plains, every day in each week, the ensuing season.

JOHN JOHNSON."

And so in the Danville North Star of 1828 there is an advertisement of Sherman Morgan which reads as follows:

"Notice:—For the information of those who may be gratified therewith, the noted and celebrated Dutch, Morgan, or Sherman horse (which is one and the same) will stand for the use of mares the ensuing season on St. Johnsbury Plain on Fridays and Saturdays of each week and the residue of the week at S. West's on Danville Green.

J. BUCKMINSTER."

Another advertisement of Sherman Morgan under the name of Lord North says: "Lord North, otherwise called the Sherman horse and formerly owned in Lyndon, Vt., was sired by the old Morgan horse, well known at Randolph, Danville, Montpelier and through the center and north part of Vermont. Some of his stock are among the finest horses in New England and bear the highest prices of any breed of horses which are offered in Boston market. Inquiries may be made at Spurr's and Soaper's livery stables in Boston, where some of the stock may be seen. The famous mare formerly owned by Adams and Redfield in Londonderry and sold in Boston for $250, was sired by the same horse and may be seen at Spurr's stable."

From this advertisement it would appear that the original Morgan horse may have been kept as far north as Canada.

RESEMBLANCE OF THE CANADIAN PACER TO THE MORGAN.

In the chapter on the Canadian Pacer in Volume I., pages 235-245, accumulative evidence is given, coming from many prominent horse-men who owned or were acquainted with them, of the very striking resemblance of the fast Canadian pacer and trotter to the Morgan, as well as their marked dissimilarity to the distinctive French Canadian breed. The character of this evidence is such as to make it practically certain, aside from any other evidence, that the families are closely related, whilst the facts connected with their history show that this relationship must have come from the importation of Morgan blood into Canada.

The evidence obtained in Canada also shows that the fast Canadian pacer, imported to the States is principally descended from the Dansereau breed of Verchères, and the testimony which we have given makes it reasonably certain that this breed traces both by sire and dam to the Morgan. For the Fiset Horse (Voyageur), sire of Jeanne D'Arc, Mr. Dansereau's famous brood-mare, was the produce of an American mare in foal with this colt when brought to Canada, and very closely resembled the Morgans. In male line Mr. Dansereau's fast pacers trace to the Gravelin Horse, said by his owner to be descended from a Dutch or English horse at a time and in a locality where this was equivalent to saying that he was a Morgan. As the advertisement of Sherman Morgan expresses it, "the Dutch, Morgan or Sherman horse, which is one and the same." So far as we know, this expression was never used in Vermont or vicinity except when applied to Morgans. With this interpretation of the word "Dutch," which we believe the correct one, and indeed the only one possible, it is very probable that the Gravelin Horse was a son of Justin Morgan, though we rate him a grandson.

But the description of this Gravelin Horse is identical with that of Tom Hal. The dates, too, would appear to correspond. Tom Hal went to Kentucky about 1820, and the Gravelin Horse must have left Canada about the same time. Assuming them to be identical we insert Tom Hal among the foundation stock of the Morgan Register with the rating one-quarter.

There remains the famous Canadian pacer, Copperbottom, the first to be imported to Kentucky and like Tom Hal, of a similar character in form and action to those which a little later are known to be descendants of the Dansereau family. The inference is that they belong to the same family. An advertisement in the "Kentucky Gazette" of 1816, states that Copperbottom came from Bolton, Canada, was foaled in 1809, and brought to Kentucky in 1816, by way of Detroit. Bolton is one of the eastern townships in the Province of Quebec, situated upon Lake Memphremagog and but a short distance from the Vermont line. At the time Copperbottom was foaled the original Morgan horse stood in northern Vermont within a half day's drive of Bolton. It also appears in the chapter of Volume I. referred to above, that several of the first settlers of Bolton came from Danville, Vt., where at this time the horse Justin Morgan was owned. These facts, together with the great resemblance of this horse to the Morgan, and the superior speed of the family, proclaim also his Morgan origin.

It is possible, as was suggested in Volume I., in spite of some conflicting testimony in regard to dates, that the Gravelin Horse or Tom Hal was a son of Copperbottom, and Copperbottom a son of the original Morgan Horse.

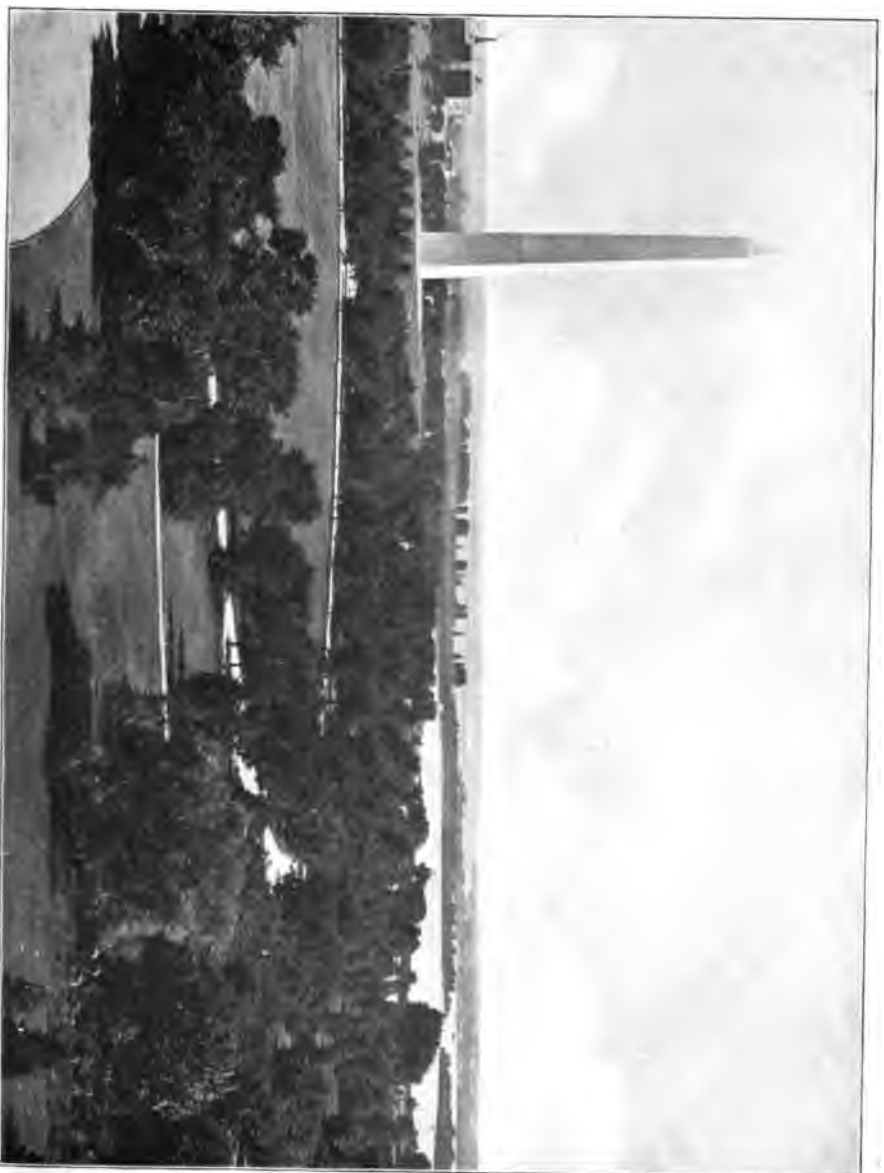

But however this may be there can be no question that the fast Canadian pacer is descended from the Morgan, which went into Canada, precisely as it did into other localities contiguous to the neighborhood in which the Morgan horse was bred, helping to produce there, as it did wherever it went, the fastest and best light harness horse. This it did in Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, Massachusetts, Northern New York, and in Orange County, N. Y., through the blood of American Star. This it has helped to do in every locality into which it has been introduced, and this we believe it will continue to do in the future, until aided by intelligent breeding, under the rules of registration, it shall become moulded into a fixed type, everywhere recognized as combining the four great requisites of a family and road horse, intelligence, form, action and speed.

It was suggested in the Preface of Volume I. that a record of certain animals under their dams would be made in this volume, following the method used in the General Stud Book of England. But in the very great amount of other work to be done, this has not as yet been accomplished. And as it is not at all essential to a complete record, we do not think it would be wise at this time to delay the publication of this volume for the insertion of such a table.

The author has been very greatly assisted in the compilation of this second volume by Dr. E. H. Cutts of New Boston, Ill., and Dr. E. B. Clift of Fair Haven, Vt.

INTRODUCTION.

LETTER FROM MR. EDWARD F. DE LANCEY.

THE following exceedingly interesting letter from Mr. Edward F. De Lancey, a grand-nephew of James De Lancey and a gentleman now eighty-two years old, whose memory closely connects him with those living at the time that the events which he relates took place, is by far the best account ever published of the capture of the sire of Justin Morgan, Colonel James De Lancey's war horse, True Briton, being the history of the event as handed down in the family most interested and who had the fullest knowledge of the facts.

20 EAST TWENTY-EIGHTH STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

JULY 3, 1899.

JOSEPH BATTELL, ESQ.,

Dear Sir:—Since my brief note of the 21st of June last I have seen the first volume of your "Register of Morgan Horses" at the New York Historical Society, of the executive committee of which I am chairman, and its domestic corresponding secretary.

I regret that I did not know of your "Register, Volume I." nor of your presence in this city when you were compiling it, for I could have saved you from some of the errors as to the famous horse True Briton and his original New York owners—errors which have appeared in different books and papers before your work, having been generally copied by one writer from another, with or without acknowledgment.

Without attempting to correct those errors seriatim, I shall give you the facts as to the latter, and the ownership of True Briton, and how the horse was stolen from Col. James De Lancey of Westchester.

Mr. J. Fennimore Cooper, the novelist whom you refer to, was my uncle by marriage, whom I knew well from my earliest infancy till his death in September, 1851, at which time I was a married man of thirty years. His wife, Susan Augusta, was the second daughter, who lived to maturity, of my grandfather, Mr. John Peter De Lancey, of Heathcote Hill, Mamaroneck, Westchester County, New York, and a sister of my father, the late Rt. Rev. William Heathcote De Lancey, the first Bishop of Western New York. Mr. Cooper's letter, reprinted in your first volume of the "Register," which I knew of, contains a few errors, the natural result of his always writing letters to inquirers generally currente calamo, off-hand, as it were, and thus making mistakes without intending to do so. It would make this letter too long now to go into their correction, although not many, but I will state the real facts as they were known in the family.

My grandfather, John Peter De Lancey's eldest brother, was James De Lancey, the political leader of the Colony of New York on the Conservative side almost from the death of their father, Chief Justice, and later Governor, James De Lancey, who died at the head of the Province in July, 1760. James, the son, is always named in the Assembly Journals of New York up to the end of the Provincial rule, during all which time he was his party's leader, as "Captain" James De Lancey (a title from having served in his youth as a captain in the Provincial service in the old French war) to distinguish him from his first cousin of the same Christian name, who was one of the sons of his uncle, Peter De Lancey, of West Farms, Westchester County, New York, and his wife, Elizabeth, daughter of Governor Cadwallader Colden. This last named James De Lancey was the Colonel of the Westchester Light Horse during the Revolution, and the officer from whom the famous horse "True Briton" or "Beautiful Bay" was stolen in October, 1780. Captain James De Lancey was a very influential man in his day, and a rich one, having inherited the very large estate of his father, the Governor, who died intestate. His wife and the wife of Governor John Penn of Pennsylvania were sisters, daughters of Chief Justice William Allen of that Province. He it was who imported so many blooded horses from England between 1760 and 1775, in the old colony days of New York. He was in the habit, having many near relatives there, of going to England on visits every year or two, and he always sent out to New York fine blooded horses, mares, and other kinds of live stock, on these occasions. He possessed the great Bowery Farm of his father, the Governor, on Manhattan Island, of about 230 acres, with the fine large house which the latter built, and where he died. On this farm (now far below the heart of New York City) James De Lancey (the Captain) laid out a half-mile track, with the requisite stables, paddocks, and outbuildings, for his own private use solely. Here he kept his horses and mares and had them trained until the time of the Revolution.

In March, 1775, public affairs looking very threatening, he decided to sell a large part of his racing stock, and did so in the spring. In the autumn of the same year he disposed of the remainder, the advertisements of these sales filling large portions of the papers of the day. Later he returned to England, and his name being put in the Confiscation Act of New York in 1777, and his estate forfeited, and a fine put upon his head, together with those of the fifty or more others named in the Act, he and his wife and children remained in England, where he died at his residence in the city of Bath in 1801, and was buried in Walcot Church in that city, where can be seen his mural monument.

This James De Lancey was the original owner of True Briton, a horse which was one of his importations from England. He was a bright bay, about fifteen hands in height, very active, and as gentle as he was active. In 1772 or 1773 Mr. De Lancey presented him to his uncle, his father's youngest brother, Oliver De Lancey, Colonel in Chief, as it was then termed, of the Colony Forces, the then designation of the Provincial Militia of the Colony of New York, for his personal use, being a very fine riding animal. His new owner was a man rising fifty years of age. He had a beautiful place of many acres, called Bloomingdale, on the North River, a name the locality still retains. He used him as a saddle horse, though a large man rising six feet in height. This was the Oliver De Lancey who upon the outbreak of hostilities was appointed the Senior Brigadier-General of the Provincial forces of New York; of which he had been for some years preceding the Colonel-in-Chief, as its commander was then styled, and placed in command of Long Island; a command he retained during the whole war, and who is known in history as Brigadier-General Oliver De Lancey. He was also included in the Confiscation Act of 1777, and a price put upon his head, with those of the others therein named. At the close of the war he went to England with his family, and took up his residence in Yorkshire, at the city of Beverley, where he died in the autumn of 1785, and lies buried in the north transept of the cathedral at that place, where his monument is to be seen to-day.

Brigadier-General De Lancey gave True Briton to his nephew, the Colonel James De Lancey of Westchester, mentioned in the beginning of the letter. This nephew was a very active and skilled horseman, as well as a man noted for his boldness and determination. For many years he had been "High Sheriff," as the term then was, of Westchester County, and Captain of the County "Troop of Horse" in its militia. When the war broke out a Provincial County Regiment of Cavalry was formed, styled the Westchester County Light Horse, and James De Lancey, Captain of the old County Troop, was made its Colonel, and hence is known in history as Colonel James De Lancey. His uncle, Brigadier-General Oliver De Lancey (who never was in command in Westchester County), then presented to him True Briton as the best horse he knew of for his purposes, he himself being then too old and heavy to engage in cavalry expeditions, or raids, as now termed. This was late in 1775 or early in 1776.

This Colonel James De Lancey of the Westchester Light Horse owned and used True Briton thenceforward during all his military operations in Westchester (for his regiment never served outside of that county and New York Island), until he was stolen from him in October, 1780, and carried off to Connecticut.

The real story of the theft is this, though many and different stories have been printed and told with little basis of facts, both at the time and since.

The West Farms estate and house on the Bronx, the larger part of which estate now forms the lately erected Bronx Park and Zoological Gardens in New York City, belonged to Mr. Peter De Lancey, the father of Colonel James De Lancey of Westchester above named, who had died a few years before the Revolution. At that time it was occupied by his widow, Elizabeth, daughter of Governor Colden above mentioned, and was the home of herself, Colonel James and his other unmarried brothers and sisters. There Mrs. De Lancey dwelt till her death soon after the Revolution. At this home, whenever the exigencies of military duty permitted, Colonel James De Lancey was in the habit of visiting his mother, it being a comparatively short ride from any part of the territory under his command. On one of these visits he rode over on True Briton from his camp, then at Kingsbridge, about the middle of October, 1780. "Rosehill," as Mrs. De Lancey's place was called, stood on high ground overlooking the Bronx river, and its valley, and on its left bank. The approach to the house from the right bank was across a bridge over the river below, and up a drive or roadway to the house, which stood a little back in shaded grounds. The Colonel, on his arrival, fastened his horse near the house, for in those war days he always kept him close at hand when away from camp. He had been some time in the house, when the quick sound of hoofs was heard, and looking out of the window he saw a man riding his horse rapidly towards the bridge.

He and his servants with the horses in the stables tried hard to overtake the thief, but in vain. True Briton's speed and bottom were too great, and the daring rider got off with the horse in safety, carried him into Connecticut, and sold him for his own benefit. Who this man was is not now known, as the deed, both at the time and since, has been ascribed to several men. He undoubtedly was one of those marauders so notorious at that day living between the lines, who robbed either side as they got a chance.

This, Mr. Battell, is the account of True Briton's origin, his owners, and himself before he was stolen as above stated. His history since that time you probably have fully investigated and know much more about it than I do.

It has always been said and believed in my family that this horse "True Briton" was imported from England as above stated. And it is certain that he was not a colt bred by Captain James De Lancey above mentioned, nor by his uncle Brigadier General Oliver De Lancey. I have often heard the horse spoken of, and the story of his theft told by different members of the different branches of my family. The horse and Colonel James De Lancey of Westchester, his last owner there, were thoroughly well known to the old people of the lower part of the county of all ranks, a few of whom I am old enough to remember. It was always said, as old Andrew Corsa, "the last of the guides" of the American armies, told Mr. Lewis G. Morris that "True Briton" came from England. Mr. Morris, whom I knew well, told me the same story as told him by Corsa, and related in D. G. Linsley's "Morgan Horses," page 122.

I may state, in closing, that there is little or no credence to be placed in the "Connecticut Courant's" story from Fishkill, N. Y., that the horse cost the colonel £200, and "that £150 was offered for the horse as soon as he brought him in." It was only a mere camp story of the times, I suppose, and nothing else, as it had no basis of truth.

I am, dear sir,

Yours very truly,

EDWARD F. DE LANCEY.

LETTER FROM MOSES E. CHENEY.

The following letter from Moses E. Cheney, with its introduction by W. H. Bliss, appeared in the Middlebury (Vt.) Register of October 17, 1890, and is reprinted here because containing a good deal of valuable Morgan horse history, and also illustrating the interest which the citizens of an agricultural community have in the horses which they raise.

INFORMATION FROM THE VENERABLE MOSES CHENEY.

Moses E. Cheney, Esq., now well on in his ninth decade of life, was long a leading citizen of Barnard in Windsor county, and always an enthusiastic admirer of the Morgan Horse. He was perhaps best known in his rôle of teacher of social music, in which his fine accomplishments, coupled with his rich vein of humor and inimitable way of putting things, made him long a popular favorite. He held nearly every town office in Barnard, represented the town in the legislature and wrote an excellent history of the town for Miss Hemenway's Gazetteer. He is now living with a son in Dakota. It will be seen by the following interesting article that he still writes with his old-time vigor and enthusiasm, while his knowledge of early Vermont horses is clear, distinct and very valuable. We bespeak for him yet many years of his hale and serene old age.

TROY, SOUTH DAKOTA, May 7, 1890.

MR. W. H. BLISS,

Dear Sir:—I thank you for your letter. You speak of statistics from John Woodbury. I call them statistics. I only have them in memory, and I know I am correct in my recollections of what Woodbury said of the two dams. But in relation to the Green Mountain's dam I have a multitude of witnesses in Bethel that she was not pretended to be, at any time of her life, a Morgan mare.

It is all the more complimentary to the Morgan blood that the twentieth generation shows the original so plainly; and now as Morgan dams and stallions are so abundant (descendants of Sherman, Woodbury and Bulrush), the average Morgan blood can be literally exalted considerably. Yes, a Morgan Register is a desideratum that will give great rejoicing on both sides of the Green Mountains, as it was compiled on the "top," whence two rivers will flow, one on either side, "from the center all 'round to the sea."

Some eighteen or twenty or more years ago, Frederick Billings employed me to look up the pedigree of his horse "Woodstock." (I had owned him from two to four years old.) I had difficulty in tracing his ancestry in respect to both sires and dams. I expended thirteen days among the French Morrills. I said $40 would be big pay for my services and expenses, and he paid me $75.

Your way of questioning is the way to get replies; continue to give them space between the questions for response and let them return the sheets you send, weighed down with facts. Fifty years ago, an elderly Scotch woman, with her lame husband and their several children, had walked six miles out of Stanstead, Canada, to a Baptist church in Derby, Vt., one Sunday, and in reply to the minister's expression of astonishment at their not riding, said: "Aye, sir, I notice that this country is a heaven for women, but a hell for horses." But I now begin to hope for a heaven for horses and a higher heaven for women to go with it. Your cause is eminently humane. Intelligence leads to humanity and to true religion.

Once, many years since, I made a call at the "Old Hibbard Horse" homestead, to see a Mrs. John H. Bliss, previously a Miss Blodgett, toward Randolph Hill; saw her and we talked of my school at the hill. I knew General Hibbard in 1838 and later; I saw the Hibbard Horse in '37 at the stables of the Union House in Montpelier and at the same time and place I saw the beautiful five-year-old, called Morgan Eagle, which horses, as I was told, were respectively got by Bulrush and Woodbury, half brothers.

I knew the Royalton Wheelock Horse well; said to be the best broken stallion extant. I knew the Richardson Horse of Hancock and the flying Morgan of Burlington and Ethan Allen and the Babbitt Horse and so on, including Billy Root and the Crane Horse, afterward called Royal Morgan. The Crane Horse until he was 24 years old was said to be of the Batchelder Horse's get; afterward he was said to be by the Sherman. Last of all, I saw Daniel Lambert at Rutland fair, rapidly led by his leader. I was deeply interested to see his marvelous hind legs propel him ahead. It was a striking exhibition of an extant ancestor among many of his descendants.

Since scribbling you the foregoing at various dates, I have removed 90 miles west to this place, Crandon, Spink County, S. Dak.; and the reader will skip this parenthesis and go on, as if all had been written at one sitting.

To go back a little: the Bradford Johnson brothers were John, Jesse and Remember. The last mentioned was called by the middle syllable Mem. They were intelligent fellows, bright every way, but their besetting trend was Morgan-horse-ward. They kept stallions and mares; even had charge of Old Woodbury some seasons. Jesse was eldest and king of the three; lived a fair length of years. "Mem" gave up a few years since, a bachelor. John still lives. I was at school in Newbury in '35 and '36;

knew them well and their Old Woodbury colts. When fairs came into fashion the Johnsons took premiums from sucklings to old ones. John still lives; ask him. The Johnsons had a five-years-old Woodbury bay stallion, good size, beautiful and fast; he was as good a horse as could live, with the significant name "Emperor." Oh! what a perfection of a Morgan was he! born, I logically say 1830, sixty years ago. I wish to mention another stallion, born in '35 '36 I presume. When the lawyer, Peter Burbank, of Wells River, died in '36 or a little before; I knew him and knew when his funeral was; it might have been in the latter part of '35 or '36 while I was at school at Newbury. You understand I reason out some of my dates from circumstances. Well, I remember it was said that Peter Burbank had coupled the Woodbury with his half sister and got a colt (not a filly,) which of course was half blood. The Lathams of Lyme, N. H., bought him of Burbank's estate and called him the Latham Horse. I presume it was 1851 that I found the Latham Horse in Warren, Vt. Now, as the mares of that time and region were nearly all of them more or less of Morgan blood, the Latham progeny must have been, generally, more than quarter bloods. I got a yearling mare by him out of a Gifford dam. Latham became the only half blood Morgan living, no doubt. Dan Mace once said, what a blessing to have a sprinkling of Morgan blood in our trotters.

"SEELY'S AMERICAN STAR."

[From The Horseman, Chicago. Christmas Number, 1894.]

Some friend has recently sent me a clipping headed as above, cut from the editorial columns of one of your contemporaries. The article purports to be a criticism on the pedigree of this horse recently given to the public by me. The writer, being profoundly ignorant of the whole subject, seems to suppose himself especially fitted for its discussion. He says: "When Seely's American Star was alive, men just as painstaking and observing as Mr. Battell studied his points and established his pedigree to their satisfaction." We did not know before that pedigrees were obtained by studying points, and what the writer means by "establishing his pedigree to their satisfaction," we shall leave him to explain. He closes his article with the assertion that the real pedigree of Seely's American Star will not be accepted by the majority of breeders until it is recorded in the American Trotting Register. An utterly senseless remark, as the compilers of that Register never investigated the subject, and have no knowledge whatever in regard to it.

The pedigree of this horse as published in Volume I of the American Morgan Register is so well supported by very exact and unimpeachable evidence as to be practically beyond question. No other pedigree of him has ever been published, sustained by any evidence whatever. Mr. Wallace in Volumes I. and IV. of his register (the last published in 1882) entered him as:

"Ch. h., foaled 1837, got by Stockholm's American Star, dam by Henry the race horse ; grandam by Imported Messenger ; bred by Henry H. Berry, Pompton Plains, N. J. ; owned and trotted about New York ; made seasons in Columbia and Ulster counties ; became the property of Edmund Seely of Goshen, New York, and after a number of years died in 1861."

In his monthly, February, 1890, Mr. Wallace referring to this pedigree says editorially :

"The horse American Star has often been cited as an instance of the value of running-blood in the trotter—indeed, he is a standard illustration and never fails to be paraded as a proof. At one time we supposed we had the true pedigree of this horse and so published it, but for a number of years we have doubted whether we ever knew anything about the truth of it. He was a very prominent animal in this region. A great many horsemen knew him well and professed to know all about his origin, but we never have been able to find one who was able in any manner, either directly or indirectly, to give any shadow of support to the pedigree as we originally published it. On one point only does there seem to be a common ground upon which those who knew the horse best have been able to stand, and that is that he was got by a Canadian horse."

At this time and for some time after, the Morgans were generally spoken of in New York and vicinity as Canadians, and indeed this was occasionally done in Vermont until disproved by Mr. Linsley's history. Mr. Wallace states elsewhere that Mr. Seely called him a Canadian horse.

The article in question would be utterly worthless but for the fact that it introduces an interview with Mr. Backman, the well-known breeder of Stony Ford, N. Y., who owned a large number of the daughters of Seely's American Star, and whose opinions, therefore, regarding the stock are entitled to consideration. Mr. Backman is reported as saying :

"I take no stock in the new pedigree furnished by Mr. Battell for Seely's American Star. When I was a young man I was almost constantly on the road in New England, especially in Vermont and New Hampshire, collecting money for the firm with which I was then engaged. I drove and saw hundreds of the best Morgan horses and became familiar with their striking points. They were, as a rule, high-headed and short-gaited horses. When I started to found a stud at Stony Ford I hunted up all the best daughters of Seely's American Star that could be bought, with the object of breeding them to Rysdyk's Hambletonian. Nearly forty of these mares, including Alice Van Duzen, Lady Brown, Fanny Fern, Lizzie Walker, Lady Mead, Maggie Jones, Lady Darling, Kitty Mills, Montgomery Maid, Fannie Star, Emma Mills, Lady Fallis, Lady Rockafellow, Wells Star, Mary Hulse, Trustus Webb, Emma Hoyt, Fanny Harris, Lady Durland and Imogene, grazed in my pastures, or lie buried on the farm, and as I drove them and had so much to do with them, their striking characteristics became as familiar to me as the Morgans did in my more youthful days. The sons and daughters of Seely's American Star were low-headed and long-gaited, with wide action behind, just the reverse of all the Morgans that I knew. I, therefore, cannot accept the opinion of any one that Seely's American Star was the son of an inbred Morgan. If like produces like, a low-headed and long-gaited type could not come from an up-headed and short-gaited type."

We have shown by an amount of evidence that is overwhelming, and that comes from some of the most distinguished horsemen in the country, who knew him well, that Seely's American Star resembled in a most marked degree the Morgans. Of course, as a matter of fact the get of this horse must have largely resembled him, and must therefore have largely resembled the Morgans. Mr. Backman says nothing about this except to advance his theory in regard to gait. We know that Conklin's American Star and King Pharoah that went to Missouri, both sons of Seely's American Star, were most pronouncedly Morgan horses in shape and quality. Sheriff Broadhead of Kingston, N. Y., said of another son: "Lewis LeFevre bred a son of Seely's American Star, a sorrel, solid chunk of a horse," which is not a very bad off-hand description of a Morgan.

Mr. Backman says, that the Stars were trotters, with wide action behind, and long gaited. He further states that the Morgans he had been acquainted with did not have wide gait behind, and were not fast trotters. This was undoubtedly true of many of the Morgans; and so it was of all other breeds at the time referred to. On the other hand, certain individuals among the Morgans produced speed, and it is remarkable that these individuals descend from each principal branch of the family. Mr. Backman will undoubtedly see the difficulties that arise in judging from points, and may realize the force of Socrates' remark that "Opinions are bad all." He will see that one cannot tell what gait a horse may inherit unless he knows not only what he might inherit from either parent, but what would be the result of a double inheritance. The tendency of parents to reproduce themselves in breeding we admit, and the principle that like parents produce offspring like themselves or like their ancestors we admit, but what will be the offspring of unlike parents can only be a matter of conjecture. If a dam and sire are of different colors, we cannot at all tell what will be the color of their offspring. If they are of different shapes, we cannot tell as to the shape of the offspring, until we see them. And if they are of different gaits we cannot tell what peculiar gait the offspring will have.

In the present case we have, first, Justin Morgan with his acknowledged trotting action, almost certainly a three-quarter bred horse, and descended from at least one progenitor (Wildair), whose blood enters into the composition of nearly all successful American trotters and pacers.

Next, Sherman Morgan (a son of Justin Morgan), bright chestnut, off-hind leg white from the foot half way to the hock, and small stripe in face, called fourteen hands, probably nearer fifteen. An advertisement of Sherman Morgan, under the name of Lord North, in the Farmer's Cabinet of Amherst, N. H. 1823, by John Langdon, says: "He is not exceeded in points, speed and figure by any horse in New England." Linsley says of him: "He had keen, rapid action." The dam of Sherman was chestnut, of good size, high-spirited; came from Rhode Island, and was called of Spanish breed. One account says: "She was inclined to a racking gait—a fast-going beast." It is quite possible that she belonged to the breed known as Narragansetts, which are said to have originated from stock brought from Andalusia in Spain. But if his dam was a Narragansett the gait of Sherman Morgan seems to have been entirely controlled by his sire. That is, it does not appear that Sherman Morgan ever paced.

Third, we have Cock of the Rock, admitted to have been in his day a fast trotter, and to have got fast stock. He was chestnut, with white face below the eyes, one or two white feet, silver mane and tail and taller and slimmer than most of the Morgans. His dam was bay, twelve hundred pounds, and said in the advertisement of 1836 to be by Justin Morgan. We know nothing about the gait of the dam, and her pedigree is not proven.

Next we have Coburn's Star, chestnut sorrel, with star, fifteen hands, resembling his sire, only smaller, and also noted for his trotting qualities. His dam was called Morgan, and there is but little doubt from her description that she was so. Her color was gray.

Last comes Seely's American Star, somewhat larger and heavier than his sire, not as fine but resembling him in color, and in shape most pronouncedly Morgan. He had wide-gait behind, and carried his head low. His dam was bay, with stripe in face, about sixteen hands, quite a good traveler but did not have wide action behind. She had bad feet, and from her description it is probable that she inherited more or less of thoroughbred blood. The bottom of the opinion, as expressed by Mr Backman, is undoubtedly the theory often, or at least quite occasionally, expressed by those interested in rival stock, that the Morgans could not trot; the facts being that our best trotters have come largely from them. It was well understood that the original Morgan horse could outtrot, as well as outrun, all his competitors; and so, many of the fastest early trotters, it is well known, were his descendants. Soon, too, certain strains in the family showed increased trotting action, others not so much. We have been told by the highest authority that Morgan Eagle, (the sire of Lady Sutton, 2:30), by Woodbury Morgan, was for his day a wonderful producer of speed. He was, too, a horse of fine size and extraordinary beauty. The Sherman Morgans showed superior trotting action. This was especially true of Black Hawk, but perhaps equally so of Cock of the Rock, both sons of Sherman Morgan. Mr. Linsley said of Cock of the Rock in 1857: "He was a fast trotter and left good stock." French Morrill, of Danville, Vt., former owner of the Morrill horse, said: "He was one of the most stylish and finest-looking horses one ever sees step, a little larger and taller than the average Morgans."

James C. Stebbins, born about 1806, and sheriff at Charlestown, N. H., for forty years, said: "The old Morgan Cock of the Rock was a powerful fellow to go. He would go terribly and he had some colts here that would go terribly. Mr. Haywood had one that would go like the wind. * * * I had one of his colts that I swapped with Walker, hotel keeper at Keene, for $300 and another horse. Walker sold to Lampson, the great glass folks of Keene, for $500."

Mr. Howard, Springfield, Mass., said: "I came here in 1841. I saw the Morgan Cock of the Rock the next season at South Hadley. He was a splendid horse to look at, but most too leggy for the farmers. He could look a little better than about any horse I ever saw in my life. A little leggy; did not have belly enough to suit all the farmers."

I presume Mr. Backman would not consider this last a very accurate description of the Morgans he refers to. But Coburn's American Star, himself an excellent trotter, was a son of this horse, and got the Seely American Star of which Levi Shreider, Kingston, N. Y., said: "I saw American Star when Dubois owned him. He was a noted horse then and about the only trotter we then had in this section." So Black Hawk, another son of Sherman Morgan, himself in his day noted as a trotter of long or short distance, got the famous trotter Ethan Allen.

It may be well to call the attention of Mr. Backman and others to the kind of a trotter that one of the sons of Sherman Morgan got,—though not the son that we have been the most directly interested in, in this argument,—and to do this we quote from men of very high authority, two of whom at least, like Mr. Backman, have always been more friendly to another family. Great merit, however, conquered their prejudices, which is certainly most complimentary to these gentlemen.

"Of all the horses that have been favorites with the American people no one has ever approximated the popularity of Ethan Allen. His remarkable beauty, his wonderful speed, his perfect action, and, above all, his kind and gentle disposition, made him the admiration and pet of everybody," writes Mr. Wallace (Wallace's Monthly, Volume II., page 456). "No one has ever raised a doubt as to his being the handsomest, finest-styled and most perfectly gaited trotter that has ever been produced," writes Mr. Parlin, of the American Cultivator. "Grand old horse! Others have beaten his time, a few others (and very few) have beaten his stud career, and other families have risen to greater popularity than his, but in all the course of trotting history no other stallion ever gained and held such widespread admiration from the people, or was ever so taken right to the public heart. What words can picture his grace of action, his perfect poise and animated glow! He carried the magic wand that commanded admiration. To see was to admire. They loved him for himself. Long after he shall have passed away the brightest encomium that can be paid to the action of a trotting horse will be that he is gaited like old Ethan Allen. That compasses all. It is the end of the law." Hark Comstock (Peter C. Kellogg) in 1873.

John H. Wallace in his Monthly of April, 1877, thus describes the great race in 1867 between Ethan Allen, with running mate, and Dexter:

"When the horses appeared upon the track to warm up for the race,

Dexter, driven by the accomplished reinsman Budd Doble, was greeted with a shout of applause. Soon the team appeared, and behind it sat the great master of trotting tactics, Dan Mace. His face, which had so often been a puzzle to thousands, had no mask over it on this occasion. It spoke only that intense earnestness that indicates the near approach of a supreme moment. The team was hitched to a light skeleton wagon. Ethan wore breeching, and beside him was a great, strong racehorse, fit to run for a man's life. His traces were long enough to fully extend himself, but they were so much shorter than Ethan's that he had to take the weight. Dexter drew the inside, and on the first trial they got the 'send-off,' without either having six inches the advantage. When they got the word the flight of speed was absolutely terrific—so far beyond anything I had ever witnessed in a trotting horse that I felt the hair rising on my head. The running horse was next to me, and, notwithstanding my elevation, Ethan was stretched out so near the ground that I could see nothing of him but his ears. I fully believe that for several rods at this point they were going at a 2:00 gait.

"It was impossible that this terrible pace could be maintained long, and just before reaching the first turn Dexter's head began to swim and the team passed him and took the track, reaching the first quarter-pole in 32 seconds, with Dexter three or four lengths behind. The same lightning speed was kept up through the second quarter, reaching the half-mile pole in 1:04, with Dexter still farther in the rear. Mace then took a pull on his team, and came home a winner by six or eight lengths in 2:15. When this time was put on the blackboard the response of the multitude was like the roar of old ocean. Although some distance away, through the second quarter of this heat, I had a fair, unobstructed side-view of the stallion and of his action, when going at the lightning rate of 2:08 to the mile. I could not observe that he received the slightest degree of propulsion from the running horse, and my conviction was then and is now, that any such propulsion would have interfered with his own unapproachable action, and would have retarded rather than helped him. The most noticeable feature in his style of movement was the remarkable lowness to which he dropped his body, and the straight, gliding line it maintained at that elevation.

"The team now had the inside, and in the first attempt they were started for the second heat, but they did not appear to me to be going as fast as in the first heat. Before they had gone many rods Ethan lost his stride, and Dexter took the track at the very spot where he had lost it in the first heat. The team soon got to work, and near the beginning of the second quarter collared Dexter, but the stallion broke soon after and fell back, not yards nor lengths, but rods, before he caught. Incredible as it may seem, when he again got to his feet he put on such a burst of speed as to overhaul the flying Dexter in the third quarter when he broke again, and Mace had to pull him nearly to a standstill before he recovered. Dexter was now a full distance ahead, and the heat appeared to be his beyond all peradventure. I was watching the team in its trouble very closely, and my idea of distance lost was the result of a deliberate and careful estimate at the moment; and the query in my mind then was, whether the team could save its distance. At last the horse struck his gait and it was like a dart from a catapult or a ball from a rifle. The team not only saved its distance, but beat Dexter home five or six lengths, in 2:16."

The descendants of Ethan Allen constantly exhibit his same unrivaled gait. And it should be remembered that for years, and until very recently, the fastest trotting, at any way of going, was in the Morgan family, inbred at that, and doubly inbred, as at any time it may be again.

Does Mr. Backman think, or does anybody think, that the above time of Ethan Allen and his descendants, when made the fastest to date, was accomplished with a short, trappy gait? Does Mr. Backman or does anybody else think that when Ethan Allen dropped his body into line for those wonderful flights of speed that Mr. Wallace thinks equal to or better than a two-minute gait, and describes as "like a dart from a catapult or a ball from a rifle," he exhibited a short, trappy gait? Certainly not. That kind of a gait could not accomplish such a result, although the gathering quickly, that belongs to a short, trappy gait, undoubtedly enters into the great speed of the Morgan, and is very essential to all great speed.

No family has developed a greater aptitude to speed than the Morgan, and to no family is the American trotter more indebted for both his speed and endurance. The wide gait behind is very common in the Lambert family, Lambert being the same remove in straight male line from Sherman Morgan, as Seely's American Star. The following answers to questions asked, from an intelligent Vermont trainer and driver, refer to this point. The three get of Lambert mentioned—Motion, Bertha and Annie Laurie—were extremely fast, although trained but little. The late W. H. Wilson, Cynthiana, Ky., and there could be no better judge, said of Motion, to Dan Mace: "He is as good a trotter as ever struck the turf, and if you take him you will drive him every heat in a race under 2:20." This was some years ago, when that meant about the fastest stallion record.

"Did Motion spread behind when trotting fast?"

"Yes."

"Did he reach far? What was his reach?"

"Quite stridy; do not know how long."

"How did he hold his head?"

"Not high-headed, but carried it very well."

"Answer same questions for his sisters—Annie Laurie and Bertha. Also for the average Lambert family."

"Annie Laurie did not spread much, rapid-gaited, good knee action, carried head well up. Bertha—wide-gaited, had more stride than Motion, carried head low. Average Lambert trotter wide-gaited and very stridy for horses of their size; head not so very high up."

"Do Denning Allen's colts spread behind in trotting?"

"Yes; with high hock action."

"Did those of the old Delong Horse that trotted fast?"

"No."

But if Lambert, one great grandson of Sherman Morgan, had a wide gait with extended action, and got horses having such, there, of course, could be no reason, so far as breeding is concerned, why American Star, another great grandson, should not have done the same thing. Mr. John Moore of Fleetwood Park, New York, all his life a horseman, and as intelligent a one, as we have ever met, whom we saw accidentally at one of the Kellogg horse sales at Madison Garden, said:

"I knew Seely's American Star. He was a blocky horse, not over fifteen hands; a prompt, full-made horse, nice mover, with spread gait. Resembled the Kentucky Hunters. Round made and ribbed up; had a nice neck. He resembled a good deal the Morgans; old Ethan Allen and old Star were alike in shape and style. Star would make you think of old Ethan Allen."

Again Mr. Moore said, in answer to direct questions of what breed he thought American Star was:

"He resembled very much the Cock of the Rock breed." And when asked what this breed was, he continued:

"Cock of the Rock was chestnut with white face and feet, silver mane and tail, fifteen and one-fourth hands high, that came to Oneida county, N. Y., from New Jersey, and stood there one year, about 1836, at my father's barn in Norwich and in New Berlin, Chenango County. His stock looked like Morgans; round, blocky-built, with good necks, good shoulders, good loins and active on the feet. It was said that Kentucky Hunter was got by him."

"Cock of the Rock was a fine-coated horse, golden sorrel, lighter than chestnut, claimed to be well bred, but I do not know his breeding, nor what became of him. He was a blocky, strong-made horse."

This correct guessing of the sire of a horse sixty years after seeing this sire, with nothing whatever to judge from but the appearance and characteristics of the horses, is a very remarkable illustration of intelligent knowledge of horses, as well as of the principle in breeding that like produces like.

As a matter of fact the trotting action of Seely's American Star, together with his appearance and history, suggested his Morgan origin. This we perceived at once, as did also Mr. Wallace, though he preferred to call it Canadian. And, indeed, it was impossible for any skilled horseman not to perceive it, whilst the statement in the pamphlet referred to—one got up with great care, giving the whole history of the horse, together with the number of mares he was bred to each year—that his sire was got by a horse called Cock of the Rock is conclusive that the author was so informed by parties who knew.

The whole history of this horse is a remarkable instance of the prepotency of the Morgan blood, in helping to produce our fastest trotters, as well as, in other respects, many of our best horses.

JOSEPH BATTELL.

NOTE.—For full evidence of the breeding of Seely's American Star see The Morgan Horse and Register, Volume I, page 348-a-4, and pages 6 and 7 of this volume.

ERRATA.

OWING to new information received concerning the pedigrees of the dams of several prominent sires which are recorded in this book, as well as of some not so prominent, since the first half of the book was printed, and which will affect their rating of Morgan blood, and of course all the descendants of such sires, it has been thought best to print a revised table of these ratings, and this will be found on pages 548-597-h, and is the proper table to be consulted in all estimates of Morgan blood.

This revision affects particularly the descendants of Blood's Black Hawk, General Knox, and Golddust, the new information being quite specific, from those who ought to know, that the dams of Blood's Black Hawk, and of Vermont Morgan, sire of Golddust, were by Sherman Morgan; and that the dam of Searcher—or, as advertised, Morgan Searcher—which got the dam of General Knox, was by Woodbury Morgan.

In Vol. I. of The Morgan Horse and Register it is stated that the sire of Pilot was unknown. This was written when it seemed to be questionable what particular stallion the first black stallion bred by Louis Dansereau from his famous brood mare Jeanne D'Arc was. For nothing was better known than that Pilot was the second fast, pacing, black stallion bred by Louis Dansereau from Jeanne D'Arc and was got by his first, fast, pacing, black stallion from the same mare. And it is also known that his first was got by the Duprés Horse, son of the Gravelin Horse—that is, Pilot was got by the Vassar Horse or a full brother.

EXPLANATORY.

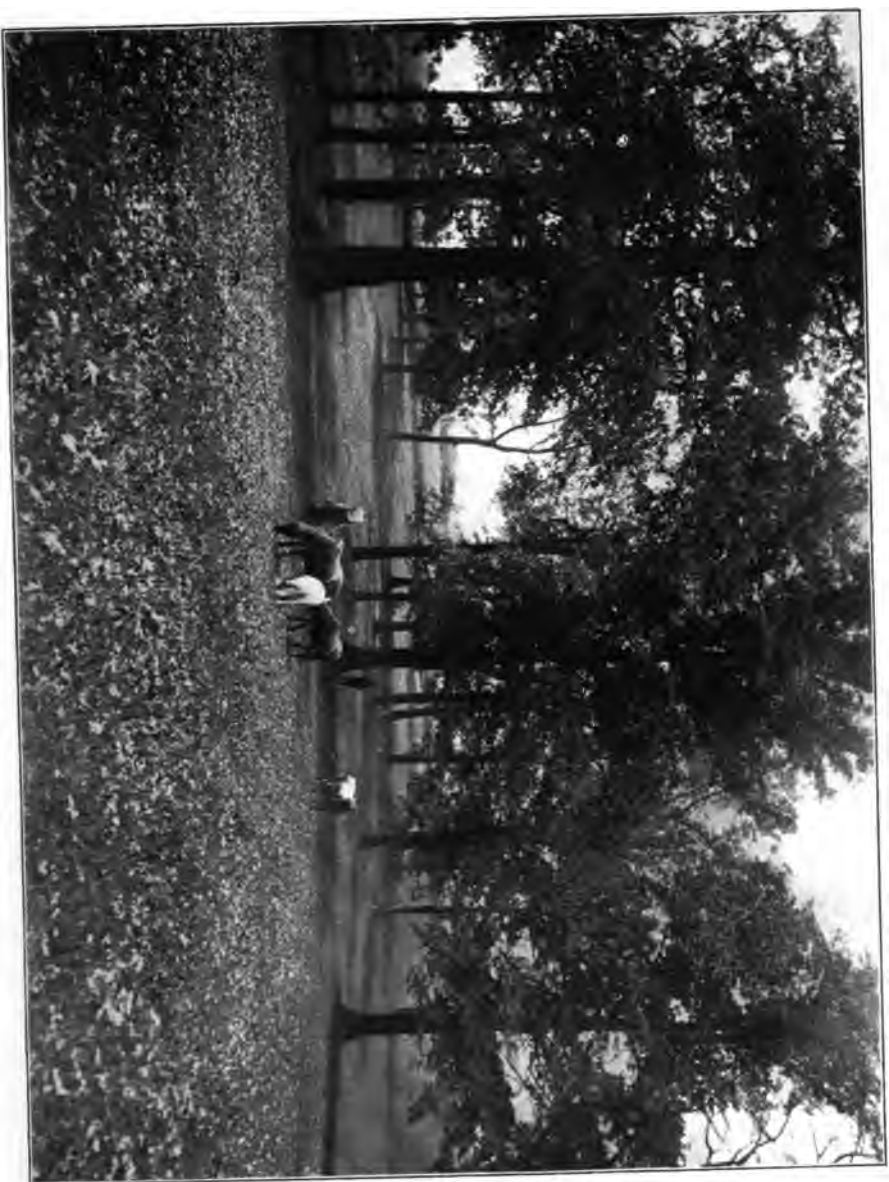

AN explanation of the use of terms and certain names and tables together with other information will be found in Volume I., page xi., of The Morgan Horse and Register.

The words "said to be" are used in a pedigree unless the name of the breeder is given.

RULES OF ADMISSION TO THE MORGAN HORSE AND REGISTER.

1. Any meritorious stallion, mare or gelding that traces in direct male line to Justin Morgan, and has at least one sixty-fourth of his blood: provided the dam and sire's dam were bred in approved speed or roadster lines.
2. Any meritorious stallion, mare or gelding having one thirty-second or more of the blood of Justin Morgan: provided the sire and dam were bred in approved speed or roadster lines.
3. The produce of a sire and dam both registered in the Morgan Register.

Stallions foaled in or before 1880 are admitted free. A fee of two dollars is charged for registering stallions one year old or more, foaled since 1880, and one dollar each for colts less than one year old, and mares or geldings of any age.

AMERICAN STAR (COBURN'S) (3-8). See Vol. 1, p. 348.

In the very complete history of this horse, given in Vol. I. of the Morgan Register, the name of Mr. Bellows, who went from Charlestown, N. H., about 1816, to New York, where he afterward kept livery stables, appears as John. This was from the recollection of parties at Charlestown, but is a mistake, said Bellows' christian name being Orlando.

The following accurate information of this branch of the Bellows family is from Charles Bellows, a prominent business man, of 52 New street, New York, who said :

"Col. Benjamin Bellows married in April, 1758, and died in 1777. Among his children was Theodore, born in Walpole, N. H., 1764, and died in 1837. He moved to Charlestown, N. H., and lived there the last part of his life. One of his children was Orlando, born June 30, 1793, and died June 9, 1849. This Orlando moved from Charlestown, N. H., to New York city, where he kept livery many years. His son Charles, my father, was born in New York, 1825. I was born 1853. I have heard my father say that my grandfather went into the livery business more particularly because he was fond of horses; that he paid much attention to the blood and pedigrees of horses, and that he brought down from Walpole, N. H., a number of horses for breeding purposes. I do not know what the names of these horses were, nor what became of them, but think they were brought to New York in the thirties."

In the directories of New York city it appears that Orlando Bellows kept livery at 37 Leonard street in 1817-18. His name does not appear in 1816-17, but continues to appear after 1817 until 1849.

This testimony of Charles Bellows sustains that of James C. Stebbins, Charlestown, N. H., that he understood that a son of Theodore Bellows took Cock of the Rock to New York city together with a colt of his, bred by Judge Sumner of Charlestown; and of Abraham Hull, Charlestown, N. H., who thought there was no doubt that the son of Cock of the Rock, bred by Judge Sumner, was taken with his sire to New York city by this Mr. Bellows.

In the second interview with James C. Stebbins in 1895, Mr. Stebbins, who had thought over the matter very carefully since our first interview, was positive that the Judge Sumner colt, by Cock of the Rock, was sold to this Mr. Bellows and taken to New York city by him with his sire.

It will thus be seen that the testimony is very accurate and complete that Cock of the Rock, by Sherman Morgan and a son of his, bred by Judge Sumner of Charlestown, N. H., were taken to New York by Orlando Bellows. As appears in Vol. I., these horses soon passed to Ira Coburn of New York, by whom the youngest was called American Star. Very few of the histories and pedigrees of American horses of the same period, rest on evidence so reliable and complete.

In estimate of Morgan blood we have considered the dam to have been got by a son of Justin Morgan. She was very probably got by Justin Morgan himself who was kept a number of years in the locality where she was owned.

BADGER BOY (3-32). See Vol. 1, p. 387. H. B. Taylor of Hartford, Wis., in a letter of Dec. 10, 1890, to H. Underwood of Beaver Dam, Wis., says: "I was familiar with Wilson Horse, or Badger Boy, during his career in this vicinity and know his pedigree well. He was sired by the Rossman Horse, son of Sherman Black Hawk. The dam of Rossman Horse was by Old Bulrush Morgan. The dam of Badger Boy was by a running horse called Cowboy in Western Ohio, and 2d dam of Badger Boy was a Morgan mare got by Billy Root, or Morgan Comet, owned in Genesee Flats, N. Y. I have owned several of the Badger Boy's colts, two of which trotted better than 2:30, namely, Jay Gould Jr. and Kitty R. There have been others that took records better than 2:30; Gen. Howard, etc. He was a great horse but always had a poor chance."

BILLY McCracken (1-16), 15 hands. See Vol. 1, p. 414. Dr. O. C. McCracken, Berkeley, Cal., in an interview published in California Breeder and Sportsman in 1894 says: "I was living at Lockport, N. Y., in 1851, when my brother, J. G. McCracken, then living at Chicago, wrote me to buy a colt by his horse from the Letts mare. I bought the colt, then five months old, and when three years old had him sent to Chicago * * * My brother started for California in 1860 with his horse Black Hawk and then wrote me to follow. I took Dave Hill and Billy McCracken to New York and put them on the steamer, and with them I came through Panama to California. I sold Billy McCracken shortly after to Mr. Knights of Marysville, who used him for a buggy horse for years. His wife drove him everywhere. Billy McCracken died in 1880, leaving behind a progeny of serviceable horses that were speedy and perfect in conformation. The Letts mare was bred, I think, by John Letts, Medina, N. Y. CHAMPION GOLDDUST (1-16), golden sorrel, 16 hands, 1100 pounds; foaled 1858; bred by L. L. Dorsey, Louisville, Ky.; got by Golddust: dam said by Mr. L. L. Dorsey, Sr., when he sold the colt, to be by Green Mountain Black Hawk, son of Sherman Black Hawk, but whether he bred her or not is not known. Mr. L. L. Dorsey states that at the time his grandfather bought Green Mountain Black Hawk, he bought several fillies by him. Sold, March, 1862, to Nelson Beckwith, Berlin, Wis., for \$800. Died March 18, 1863. Trotted when three in 3:00. This horse has become prominent as the sire of Zephyr, dam of Joe Bassett, sire of Johnston, 2:06 $\frac{1}{4}$.

The following letter is from H. I. Woodruff to L. L. Dorsey, dated Janesville, Wis., May 21, 1886:

Champion Golddust lived but a short time after Mr. Beckwith bought him. Zephyr was bred by Mr. N. F. Beckwith, sired by his Champion Golddust, and out of a mare by the thoroughbred Iceberg, by Zero, by Boston, etc. At five years old Zephyr was purchased of Mr. Beckwith by Mr. E. McArthur for $500. Mr. McArthur sent her to Billy Bashaw and got Joe Bassett. Zephyr is now on a breeding farm at Charles City, Ia., and, Mr. McArthur says has eight or nine fine and fast colts.

Joe Bassett was put into the hands of Joseph Bassett to be handled at three years old, soon became his property and remained so until March, 1884, when he was sold to T. W. Leighton, who brought him to Janesville in June, 1884. I bred six mares to him and then bought him in June, 1884.

The dam of Johnston was a small chestnut mare weighing about 900 to 950 pounds and said to have been very ugly. At three or four years old, she ran away and broke her ankle. She was got by a horse called Ned Forrest, who was bred in New York state and got by Alexander's Edwin Forrest. The 2d dam of Johnston was got by a horse called Ned Hunter, who used to run on half-mile tracks, around Berlin, Wisconsin. All of these horses were kept in the neighborhood of Berlin, Wis.

The following letter is from the Mark Field Monthly of November, 1890:

KANSAS CITY, ILL., July 2, 1890.

MR. JAMES M. HIATT, Peoria, Ill. Dear Comrade:—Yours of the first instant was received this morning. I find I am indebted to the Kansas City Times' article for a number of letters from comrades, yours among them. I am glad you took time to write, and will give you the information concerning "Old Chickamauga" which you desire. My horse "Captain Life," was shot under me at Stone River, and Chickamauga was bought of Quartermaster Howland, of Gen. John M. Palmer's staff, at Cripple Creek, Tenn., in the spring of 1863, to supply his place. A negro turned the horse over to Mr. Howland and gave this account of himself and the possession of the horse: A native of Ohio, he had accompanied an Ohio regiment to the front and was captured at Stone River by a rebel, Major Hawkins. He soon gained the major's confidence, and "evened up" with that gentleman by riding his war horse into General Palmer's camp at Cripple Creek. I paid the government $75 for the horse, and rode him in every fight the Army of the Cumberland had until the end of the war. He behaved so well at Chickamauga that the boys named him "Chickamauga." In the language of the colored brother who brought him into camp, "he was a hoss as is a hoss." An imposing monument was erected to his memory in the centre of the fair grounds at Macomb, Ill. And there were men, and men in Illinois, who did less for their country than he.

Your sincere friend,

Died at Macomb, Ill., 1878.

L. H. WATERS.

COMET (WETHERBEE'S, YOUNG'S) (3-16), chestnut, about 1100 pounds; foaled 1854; said to be a descendant of Billy Root, son of Sherman Morgan: dam said to be Canadian of extra speed and build. The first we have been able to learn of this horse, he was owned when a colt by James Carroll, and sold by him to Mr. Dow, hotel keeper, at Annawan, Ill. Then sold to D. J. Wetherbee, who took him fall of 1858 to Jones Co., Ia.; to Fred F. Beardsley, Monticello; to L. Tisdale, Worthington, Ia., about 1864; to Reuben Overpeck, Dubuque, Ia., about 1868; to a man at Freeport, Ill., about 1869; to Davis Young, Lena, Ill., where he died 1870. Stock very fast and valuable. D. J. Wetherbee writes: "Comet was low built, deep neck and chest, rather coarse head, heavy bone, not the best loin and not short in back. Rather on the Frenchy order in his make up and not stylish. He was a horse of great endurance, and, from his breeding so even and well, must have had good blood." Mr. H. B. Gorham of Freeport, Ill., writes: "I had the pleasure about six weeks ago of meeting Mr. F. F. Beardsley of Iowa, former owner of Comet. He said: 'Comet was brought to Iowa by Dan J. Wetherbee of Grand Detour, Ill., and sold to me. I called him Jack the Rattler. He was a fast and good horse, sired by Comet, son of Billy Root. Dam a French Canadian mare. My horse Comet sired the Williams Horse, and he sired Comet (Acker's), sire of Maid of Monti, 2:28, Susie W., 2:26½, Western Belle, 2:24½ and Dart 2:30.' Mr. Beardsley knew all parties concerned and owners of the above horses."

COTTRILL MORGAN (PECK HORSE) (1-8). See Vol. 1, p. 405.

This horse was bred by Judge Lucius B. Peck of Montpelier, Vt. It has been usually stated that the dam was an English mare brought from Nova Scotia, but Judge C. W. Upton of Waukegan, Ill., informs us that he knew the mare well, having often driven her when a boy, and that Judge Peck purchased her about 1835 of C. P. Van Ness, then a member of Congress from Vermont, and that the mare was said to have been bred on Long Island and to be of English or thoroughbred blood.

FLYING MORGAN (1-8). See Vol. 1, p. 681.

Flying Morgan was advertised for stock purposes at Burlington, Vt., April 11, 1850, by Riley Adams, who kept him in Burlington until 1857, then in Massachusetts and New Hampshire until 1864, when he sold him to Wm. J. Russell, Bombay, N. Y., who kept him at Malone. The horse died about 1868, the property of Henry W. Nye, Brasher Falls, N. Y. Flying Morgan was a smooth-turned horse, somewhat lazy, so much so as to make him an indifferent road horse. He was quite a fast and reliable track horse for his day, winning a number of races. He left some very creditable stock, among them Ira Allen, 2:30, the sire of Ripon Boy, 2:25, and Lady Griswold, who had no record, but could trot better than 2:30, dam of the stallion Kent, and grand dam of Wilton, 2:19¼, and Albert France, 2:20¼. He was also the sire of the stallion Whalebone and several others of merit. He received second premium in class of foreign horses at New York State Fair, 1863. Solomon Dunham, Hancock, Vt., born in Bethel in 1814, all his life a breeder of horses and an especially accurate and reliable witness, says: "I remember well the dam of Flying Morgan when she was owned at Granville, Vt.; they always called her a Morgan mare and she looked like one. She was quite smart to go. It has always been my impression that she was got by the Mill's Horse, son of Woodbury Morgan; she certainly resembled that horse's stock very much, many of which were fast trotters."

Mr. Daniels, Bristol, Vt., said in an interview with the author of this book: "I was born May 18, 1826. I lived in New Haven with Mr. Hanchett when 21. I worked that season for Mr. Stowe 5 months, worked for Judge Bottom the winter following and went from there to my brother, Jacob Daniels, in Bristol, where I worked with him at mechanic trade for a short time. That season, I think in May, 1848, I went to Ohio. I remember Joshua R. Giddings talked there and I voted that fall in Ohio for Taylor. When I went from Bristol to Ohio my brother had Flying Morgan."

Sire: Westfield Boy, 1.
2d dam of Sister, 2:25 $\frac{1}{4}$.

Taken to Portsmouth, O., about 1859, by Ferdinand Warren, who is understood to have got him from his father's estate, the horse being valued at $1000. Passed to John Adams of Portsmouth, who sold him at Maysville, Ky. He was kept at one time on the farm of Col. Jenkins in Virginia. T. M. Lyman of Ohio, former owner of Rhode Island, writes: "He was a fast horse when brought to these parts and could beat all of the good ones here; near Ashland, Ky., he beat a black mare of Mr. O. B. Gould's on the Ashland track in 2:37 and a fraction while Mr. Warren owned him." A good stock horse.

GRAY EAGLE (BROOKS'), dapple gray, 15 3/4 hands, probably of Morgan blood. Owned about 1860 by Mr. Brooks, Fortsville, N. Y., and is supposed to have gone from there to Lake George. R. F. Milligan, Saratoga Springs, writes: "He had good legs and good feet, nice mane and tail; was very handsome and extremely stylish. I judge his character was very like that of old Justin Morgan, in that he was a great parade horse, appearing wonderfully well under the saddle. It was said he trotted very fast on the lake, which I think was Lake George. His colts were uniformly good horses, but the only one of any note was Snow Flake or Nelly Taylor, who was out of a small brown farm mare said to be of Morgan blood."

GREEN MOUNTAIN BOY (LITTLE BILLY, SUN PRAIRIE HORSE) (3-16). See Vol. 1, p. 498.

GREEN MOUNTAIN BOY, chestnut sorrel, about 15½ hands, thought to be Morgan. Taken from Vermont to Lysander, N. Y., 1874, there kept one year, and next year at Oswego, N. Y. His owner claimed that he drove him 100 miles in twelve hours. Died about 1877. A good stock horse. (See Green Mountain Morgan, Rudd's).

GREEN MOUNTAIN BOY (1-16), black with one hind ankle white, 15½ hands, 975 pounds; foaled about 1850; bred by Ebenezer Bush, Shoreham, Vt.; got by Prince Albert, son of Black Hawk: dam gray, a great roadster, bought by Mr. Bush of Orville Smith, said to be of Morgan and French blood. Sold to Oliver B. Smith, Shoreham, Vt., about 1851; to W. L. Utley, Racine, Wis., about 1855; to some party at Niles, Mich., or vicinity, 1865. W. L. Utley writes: "Between the years 1855 and '60 a number of stallions were brought from Vermont to this country, among them Green Mountain Boy and another horse from Addison county, chestnut, by Black Hawk, dam Puzzle Tail, Morgan, a very beautifully made horse of about 1050 pounds, but not as showy as Green Mountain Boy. He was kept here a few years and was taken to Ohio. A Mr. Waterman went to Vermont and brought in a Morgan stallion. Charles Wright brought from Vermont a number of mares and a number of stallions. There was another Black Hawk stallion by the Pratt Horse, Black Lion, and, in the western part of the county, two or three stallions by the North Horse (Sherman Black Hawk). From this influx of Vermont horses, Racine county has become celebrated for its beautiful and fast horses. Green Mountain Boy was the sire of Billy Utley, that trotted all one winter in Barnum's New York hippodrome; also of Gov. Randell, 2:38, when four, that was sold at Chicago for a roadster, for $2700, and many others that were fast in their day and fine. He trotted himself in 2:38 to 110-pound wooden-axle sulky. I am confident that with the track, training and sulkys horses get now, he would have trotted very fast. He was also one of the handsomest horses that ever lived."

GREEN MOUNTAIN BOY (1-16), bred by Dr. Smith, Addison, Vt.; got by a son, thought to be Fletcher's, of Black Hawk: dam said to be Hamiltonian. Sold to Jonas Webster, Ferrisburgh, Vt., who took him to Plato, Ill., spring of 1856.

We have received the following information concerning this horse:

JOSEPH BATTELL, ESQ.

LITTLETON, MASS., Jan. 18, 1895.

Dear Sir:—In your admirable work on the Morgan Horse, I notice a discrepancy in regard to "Green Mountain Morgan," which you may wish to correct in your next volume. On page 221, he is described as a "seal brown" in color, and on page 223 as a "dark chestnut." I have seen the horse many times and I know of my own knowledge that he was a deep dark chestnut, and his tail and mane were of the same color. Within six months I have talked with Silas Hale, who is now 93 years old, and he told me Green Mountain Morgan was a dark chestnut. Yours truly,

J. A. HARWOOD.

P. S.—Linsley made the original mistake in regard to the color of Green Mountain Morgan, and I presume yours was caused by his.

GREEN MOUNTAIN MORGAN, chestnut, 16 hands. Owned at Holly Springs, Miss., about 1858, and brought there, it is thought, from Bowling Green, Ky., by a Mr. Covington. Described as a beautiful horse.

HENRY BARNARD HORSE. See Morgan Gifford.

HENRY CLAY (1-8) (Rule 2), black with star and right hind ankle white, 1050 pounds; foaled 1837; bred by George M. Patchen, New Jersey; got by Andrew Jackson, son of Young Bashaw, by imported Grand Bashaw, Arabian: dam Lady Surrey, bay with star, 14½ hands, foaled about 1824, said to be by Revenge, son of Justin Morgan.

From evidence obtained by John H. Wallace, and published in his monthly of May, 1881, it appears that Lady Surrey was owned when five years old by Mark D. Perkins, Mt. Vernon, N. H.; that she was bred in Surrey, N. H.; and that her dam was got by an English horse, owned or imported by David S. Eaton of Waltham, Mass. The statement that she was by Revenge, son of Justin Morgan, is from F. A. Weir, Walpole, N. H. Mr. Weir said that she was bred by William Perkins, Surrey, N. H. His statement to us was that he knew this mare well when owned by Mr. Perkins, that she was sold and went to New York, where he lost track of her, but, that later, when visiting New York, he went to Long Island to see the noted stallion Andrew Jackson; that this mare Lady Surrey was bred to Andrew Jackson whilst he was present, and that he recognized her as the Perkins mare. We have heard of no evidence to the contrary. The appearance and quality of the mare, as well as the locality from which she came, is very strong corroborative evidence that this breeding as given by Mr. Weir is correct. By reference to Revenge, it will be seen that he was advertised to stand a part of the time at Walpole, adjoining Surrey, in 1823. This mare, whilst owned in New York, was called Canadian, which at that time, and long after, as we have had occasion to mention before, was one of the usual terms in New York and elsewhere, applied to Morgans. Mr. J. J. Sondiker, in his advertisement of Cassius M. Clay in 1849, says: "The dam of Henry Clay was the fast trotting mare Surrey, remarkable for her successful performances in beating the best of her day." Mr. Van Cott, the well known liveryman of 58th Street, says that Lady Surrey produced a colt by Henry, before producing Henry Clay. He also says: "Lady Surrey was bay, 14½ hands, short neck, pony built, nice smooth, pretty little mare; trotted against Cato to saddle in 2:40 on the Centreville track in 1832 or 1833. She was not a pacing mare, never struck a pace. I think Mr. Platt got her as early as 1830 or 1831."

Henry Clay was one of the most noted of American trotting sires. He was sold by his breeder to Col. William W. Wadsworth, Geneseo, N. Y., March 27, 1845, for one dollar a pound, being $1050. Col. Wadsworth kept him, using him mostly as a driving horse until his own decease, after which, Jan. 13, 1852, he was sold by Col. Wadsworth's executors for $550, to Nelson Thompson, Penn Yan, N. Y.

The facts stated in the last paragraph are furnished by Mr. W. A. Wadsworth, of Geneseo, son of Col. Wadsworth, and the dates and figures are taken from the books of Col. Wadsworth. Mr. Wadsworth states that his father raced the horse once in Buffalo, but for some reason he was badly beaten.

Mr. Thompson kept Henry Clay at Penn Yan about five years, as Mr. E. N. Owen of Penn Yann informs us. Mr. Thompson sold him about 1857, and he was afterwards owned by Kent & Bailey, Bristol, N. Y.; Manassah Cummings, Honeoye Falls, N. Y.; Mr. Sayles, Scottsville, N. Y., who owned him in 1862, and kept him in the fall of that year at Ovid. He then became the property of Fred Fellows, Chili, N. Y., who sold him May 26, 1865, to a company at Lodi, N. Y., of which Mr. D. L. Case of Lodi was a member, and he had charge of the horse at Lodi, season of 1866, when he got 25 foals, which were his last. He died the property of this company, April 21, 1867. These last facts and dates are furnished by Mr. D. L. Case.

JUSTIN MORGAN. See Vol. 1, pp. 22, 31, 211.

In the Country Gentleman, 1857, page 364, J. W. Coleman writes: "Forty-four years ago this season the writer was almost in the daily habit of looking on the original Justin Morgan, then called the Goss Horse, from his having been owned several years and bought and sold back and forth by several brothers of this name. He had then passed his prime, was 20 years old I think, but was strong and vigorous, low in stature, and in high condition, and I do not believe he ever weighed 1050 pounds; I doubt if he ever could come up to this. It is true that the Justin Morgan or Goss Horse, though a small horse, possessed great power of endurance, and except a few months each year was used as a common farm horse to do ordinary farm work; to go journeys, to help draw loads of produce from Vermont to Boston in the winter season. He was very lovable, kind, and docile of temper. He was not appreciated, nor his value known until he had gone back to earth. He was really more valuable than any other horse of this part of the country, either before or since his day, for he was the founder and progenitor of a new race, unsurpassed, taken all in all, of any race that has yet appeared in this country, and yet so little was he known that he frequently changed owners at from $100 to $175; generally sold low for his want of size, and $4 or $5 for a foal was the usual price." For additional information concerning pedigree, see preface of this volume.

Owned by a farmer, about seven miles from Gardner, Mass., who traded with a stranger on the road for the dam when in foal, and who sold the colt when one or two for $50, to J. S. Bowker, of Gardner, who gave or sold to his brother, Charles L. Bowker, Keene, N. H.; then sold to Laton Martin, Keene, 1853; to F. A. Weir, Walpole, 1855 or '56; to R. D. Hilts, Hamlin, O., March, 1857, for $2500, with the understanding, as Mr. Weir says, that the horse could outtrot any horse west of the Alleghanies. Mr. Hilts made the challenge, trotted him against Stockbridge Chief and a Clay horse and won. Time 2:34. While Martin owned him he won at Vermont State Fair, Brattleboro, over Young Morrill and a Black Hawk. Received 1st premium for speed at New Hampshire State Fair, 1854. Mr. Martin says: "He was Morgan built all over, rather low but a powerful horse."

MORGAN DE FOREST (1-4). See Vol. 1, p. 315. Advertised in Brattleboro, Vt., paper, 1836-37-39 as follows:

"Bred by David Hartwell, Langdon, N. H.; foaled 1830. He is the largest of the Sherman Morgan stock and weighs between 1100 and 1200 pounds; light chestnut; got by Cock of the Rock, out of the noted Hartwell mare, by the famous stock horse De Forest, imported by Dr. Jarvis, Claremont, N. H. There can be no question of the blood of this fine horse, which can be traced directly back, on the mare's side, to a distinguished imported English mare. Farmers and lovers of good horses are requested to examine this horse before they make their contracts for their breeding mares. His action and carriage are very superior and he is not surpassed by any stallion in the country for trotting. The owners of this fine horse have been at much expense to procure one of the best young horses in the state, and they know they have succeeded as far as muscular power, speed, beauty and fine proportion can be combined in one horse, and his stock, which is now two years old, bids fair to be of the first rate and commands as high a price as any stock on the lower river of the same age. The owners can produce certificates of the above assertions. To stand at Guilford Creek and L. Farr's stable, Brattleboro; terms $10.—L. FARR, D. HARTWELL.

"N. B.—Will be bridled by Wm. Hartwell, who raised him, and will give all information required of pedigree, etc."

Also, 1837, at Greenfield, Winchester and Hinsdale.

Advertised at Townsend, etc., in 1841, by L. Farr and R. T. Hall; in 1842-3 at Townsend, Jamaica, and Wardsboro, by L. Farr.

Mr. Boardman, Newport, N. H., says: "Morgan De Forest was a large horse with a white face. He was ridden by the marshal at Marlow, N. H., one fall, and my horse by his son. I think this was in 1841, and I think Hartwell owned him at that time."

MORGAN EAGLE JR. (HENDERSON'S) (1-4). See Vol. 1, pp. 215, 661. The following advertisement of this horse is from the Livingston (N. Y.) Republican:

"The celebrated horse, Morgan Eagle. This truly celebrated horse will stand this season, commencing April 19, at the Franklin House in Geneseo, on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and at Scoville's Eagle Hotel in Mt. Morris on Friday and Saturday of each week during the season. Morgan Eagle was purchased in the fall of 1847, in Tunbridge, Vt., by J. Henderson, at a high price, for the express purpose of improving the stock of horses in this county. He is about 16 hands high and well proportioned, is a bright bay, and for symmetry and action cannot be surpassed. Morgan Eagle and the celebrated trotting mare, Lady Sutton, were sired by Old Morgan Eagle of Vermont. Breeders of horses are particularly requested to call and examine him. Pasture will be furnished for mares sent from a distance, and good attention paid to them. Escapes at the risk of the owners. Those who part with mares will be held responsible for the insurance.

"Geneseo, April 16, 1852."

H.; got by Taggart's Abdallah, son of Farmer's Beauty: dam thought to be Morgan. Sold to A. C. Wallace, Manchester, N. H., 1869, whose property he died September, 1886. Mr. Wallace writes: "He was very intelligent and of fine disposition, appearance, and action. I owned his dam six years. She was one of the best pieces of horse flesh I ever sat behind, and though never trained could show a three minute clip on the road with two men in a wagon. I made every inquiry possible, and could not get her breeding positively, but am satisfied she was a Morgan mare. She resembled the Morgans; her dam came from Vermont and may have been a Black Hawk."

Owned successively by David Newton, Thomas Smith, Clearfield, Penn.; E. S. Ayres, Towanda, Penn.; and J. O. Nichols, Mountain Lake, Penn. C. P. Welles, Towanda, writes: "He was very showy, with fine action and disposition, stock uniformly good, and all things considered the best in this section of country. Good roadsters, workers, and in fact in any place, they are among the best; none trained to my knowledge; some very fast roadsters; they show the Morgan very strongly. A few inherited springhalt. One of his colts, Flora, now owned by me, was used by the boot and shoe manufacturers, Humphrey Bros. & Tracy, of this place, on the road by their traveling men over ten years. One man named Hewett drove her 42,000 miles in seven years, using up three horses beside her. Afterward she was driven three years by one of the firm about the same distance each year (6,000 miles). She was very free and made a man's arm tired to drive her. She is 21 this spring, has not a wind puff or blemish on her, and is heavy in foal."

THE LAIRD (3-32), bay with star and off hind heel white; foaled June 14, 1894; bred by John Martin, Piermont, N. H.; got by Peters' Ethan Allen 2d, son of Peters' Morgan; dam bred by Moses Spear, Vershire, Vt., got by Peters' Vermont, son of Wood Horse; 2d dam bred by Nelson Jewell, East Orange, Vt., got by Blue Jacket, son of Doncaster, by Trotting Childers, son of Black Hawk; 3d dam bred by Nelson Jewell, got by Flying Banner, son of Hammett Horse. Owned by M. Roosevelt Schuyler, New York City.

THOMAS JEFFERSON (1-32) (Rule 2), 2:23, black; foaled 1863; bred by T. J. Vail, Hartford, Conn.; got by Toronto Chief, son of Royal George; dam Gipse Queen, purchased for $225, at Rochester, N. Y., when four, by Mr. Barker, auctioneer, New York City, who sold her soon after to Graves & Loomis, Chicago; said to be of Black Hawk Morgan stock. It is understood that the man who sold this mare to Mr. Barker was stopping at the New England House, Rochester, and had, at the time, a Black Hawk Morgan stallion, which he claimed was the sire of the mare. Kept one season in Vermont. This horse was quite famous as a trotter, and won many closely contested races. He was on the turf every year, with but few exceptions, 1866-75. Owned by W. B. Smith, Hartford, Conn. Died April 9, 1891. Jas. Cairn Simpson of San Francisco says: "Pat Morgan had charge of Gypsey Queen. Bidwell drove her. The man that bought Gipse Queen was a pool seller and auctioneer, his name Maj. Barker. There is not a bit of doubt of this. I thought at one time of buying the mare; I talked with Barker and he or some one else told me she was by a Black Hawk horse. She looked like a thoroughbred. She was 15½ hands, rather light in body, fine neck, and had light tail; but the thoroughbred pedigree given her was not correct. Barker brought her to Chicago, and I understood he got her at Rochester, N. Y."

TOM HAL (CANADIAN (1-4), strawberry roan, 15 to 15½ hands 1100 pounds; foaled 181-. Brought to Kentucky 182- by John T. Mason. Owned by Spencer Cooper, and kept by Captain West, Georgetown, Ky., till the season of 1828, when he was purchased by Rev. W. L. Breckenridge and advertised to stand at his farm on North Elkhorn Creek, seven miles from Lexington; soon after he was bought by Dr. Joseph Boswell of Lexington, who rode him nearly to death, in consequence of which he became blind. About 1830 Dr. Boswell sold him to John E. Shropshire of Lexington, who kept him till his own death in 1833, and at his administrator's sale the same year the horse was sold to Col. B. N. Shropshire of Harrison County, Ky., whose property he died 184-. His service fee varied from $5 in 1828 to $30 in his last years.

In the Kentucky Gazette of April 25, 1828, appears the following advertisement:

THE PACING HORSE—TOM HAL.

The subscriber informs the public that he has purchased from Mr. Spencer Cooper the well known pacing horse called Tom Hal, brought to this state by John T. Mason, Esq., and formerly kept by Capt. West, of Georgetown. This horse will be kept the present season at my farm on North Elkhorn Creek, one mile below Russell's mill, about seven miles from Lexington, and the same distance from Georgetown. He will be suffered to go to mares at the moderate price of five dollars, due when it is ascertained that the mare is in foal.

W. L. BRECKENRIDGE.

April 14, 1828.

It may be proper to add that he will not be allowed to cover mares on the Sabbath day.

Judge Belford I. Peters, of Mount Sterling, Ky., whom we saw at his office in October, 1889, still in the active practice of law at the age of eighty-four, and who was born in Virginia and came to Mount Sterling in 1827, said:—"John T. Mason, a man of education and standing, came here from Virginia and embarked in the iron business. I did not know that Mason brought in Tom Hal. There were Tom Hals about here, all pacing horses. Horace Vinton, about 1840, kept a Tom Hal, a very fast pacing horse, red sorrel, silver mane and tail, 15 hands, 1000 lbs.

"Pilot was a similar made horse to Tom Hal; heavy set, strong built horse, strong bone. A good-looking horse, nothing coarse about him; a well put up horse. He carried his head very well; a beautiful ear. I saw Pilot in Clark County; he was kept there.

"The best saddle stock I ever saw in Kentucky were produce of Tom Hal. Father bought several of them. Uncle Fisher bred to him before 1833, when he stood near Clinton, Fayette County. I am satisfied he was a Canadian. Mason never kept the horse as a stock horse after he came here."

Like most early Kentuckians of culture, and position, Judge Peters was a thorough horseman; but it will be noted that he did not come to Kentucky till after Mason had brought in and disposed of Tom Hal. He referred us to Hon. W. C. P. Breckenridge, who, in reply to our inquiry, wrote:—"C. M. Keiser, Esq., Lexington, Ky., now 82 years of age, was living with my uncle, Rev. Dr. W. L. Breckenridge, in 1828. His brother-in-law, Maj. John H. Wallace, also over 82, is still alive in the same neighborhood. If any one can give you the information you desire, it is these."

We addressed Mr. C. M. Keiser, and received in reply a paper dated January 1, 1890, signed by both Mr. Keiser and J. H. Wallace, giving the above description of Tom Hal, and adding:—"Tom Hal was certainly the best saddle horse we ever saw." This paper also stated that the horse was ridden by Miss Triggs from Richmond to Lexington, and was afterwards owned successively by Wm. L. Breckenridge and John E. Shropshire.

The following letter, dated Jan. 14, 1890, was received from Mr. C. M. Keiser:—"Yesterday I saw Mr. Shropshire, of Harrison County, Ky. He said his father owned the horse at the time of his death, and that the horse came from Canada, and therefore his pedigree cannot be traced. We think this is reliable.

Yours truly,

C. M. KEISER."

From Miss Emily V. Mason, of Baltimore, Md., we learned that her father, the late John T. Mason, went to Kentucky from Leesburgh, Va., in 1811, and that he afterwards returned yearly while his mother lived. Miss Mason further wrote:—"I remember that at that period, (about 1820), my father no longer farmed and raised stock; he was engaged in iron works in Bath County, Ky., and if he took out from Virginia such a horse it was for some one else."

Mr. J. H. Shropshire, whom we met at Lexington, Ky., said:—"My father, John E. Shropshire, bought Tom Hal in 1829 or 1830. Joe Boswell had ridden this horse about to death, and he was blind in consequence. I think he was ten years old when my father bought him. My father died in 1833 and Tom Hal was sold the same year at his administrator's sale. I have no idea who bid him off, or what became of him."

Gus. Shropshire, Esq., of Jacksonville, Ky., son of Col. B. N. Shropshire, writes us that the original Tom Hal, a blue roan, was shipped from Canada to Philadelphia.

Mr. Boswell whom we met at the Clarendon Hotel, Lexington, a nephew of Dr. Joseph Boswell, said:—"Tom Hal was a Canadian horse. He came here and Uncle Joe Boswell bought him. I am sure he bought him after he came here, and think he bought of the man who brought him here. Tom Hal was a pacer, about 15½ hands, over 1100 pounds, very dark roan, very genteel made horse with the best leg I ever saw on a horse. He had a good neck, not very long, very heavy mane, tail docked; a clean, nice head, wide between the eyes; a heavy set horse, rather high on the withers; his color was a very dark roan, almost a bay, with no white. He was a very fast pacer, never ran nor trotted; had a very kind disposition and fine spirit. He was an excellent parade horse and as perfect made horse as ever you saw."

Mr. Anderson, of Kentucky, said:—"The original Tom Hal was a roan, 15 hands, a heavy set little horse and a very fast pacer for his day. I think he was purchased of a man named Tom Hal, of Canada. He was a horse of very good style, medium length of neck, very stout, of more endurance than any other horse we had in Kentucky; long, heavy tail and very little white, rather a clean nice head wide between the eyes. He was choked to death when very old. I do not think he was over five or six years old when brought to Kentucky. He bred large, most of his colts were 16 hands; mostly pacers.

"There was Logan's Tom Hal, Thompson's Tom Hal, Grinell's Tom Hal, and a full brother to Tennessee Tom Hal.

"The Tom Hals have been very popular and noted saddle horses from the time of the original horse to the present."

JOSEPH BATTELL,

LEXINGTON, KY., Oct., 27, 1891.

MIDDLEBURY, VERMONT.

I received a letter from my brother about Tom Hal but am very sure that he is mistaken as to the horse dying the property of our father. I enclose you his letter. He is right as to time my father became possessed of the horse for I distinctly recollect of two fillies (one sorrel, one roan) colts of his that I used to ride on the farm before 1833. My impression is that father sold the horse before he died, but I have no recollection to whom he sold him.

One reason for delaying to answer your letter is that the oldest son of Col. Ben Shropshire visits about this place a good deal, and I wanted to see him, feeling sure he would recollect certainly about his father owning the horse after my father's death, a fact that I felt fairly sure of. I have watched for two weeks to catch Nat Shropshire but have failed to get sight of him. I have in the last few days however seen one Robert Adams, who was a school fellow with my brother and myself, about two years older than myself, and he told me he was positive that Col. Ben Shropshire owned and stood the horse at his home after my father's death, and that he as a boy took mares to breed to the horse for his father. And in way of confirmation I asked him to describe the horse which he did, as a red or strawberry roan horse about 15 hands high and entirely blind. This description is correct as I could swear.

Gus Shropshire possibly gives the right ownership of the horse after my father let him go, but, if so, he got it from some older person, as he is too young to know the facts. I think there is no doubt but Col. Ben Shropshire owned the original Tom Hal.

Yours, etc.,

J. H. SHROPSHIRE.

JOSEPH BATTELL,

LEXINGTON, KY., Nov. 5, 1891.

MIDDLEBURY, VERMONT.

Dear Sir:—Since writing you last I have seen Nat Shropshire, the oldest son of Col. B. N. Shropshire and now the oldest of family name in Kentucky, and will give you his description and knowledge of Tom Hal the original.

He says the horse was a blue roan (whilst my recollection was a red roan), 14¾ to 15 hands high and stone blind; that he was a Canadian horse bought by some man in the city of Philadelphia and bought from him by one Mr. Boswell, of Lexington, Kentucky, who rode the horse blind on a bet of $500 that he, weighing about 200 pounds, could ride the horse to Louisville, 80 miles, from sun up to sun down, one day and back the next day in the same time (the road at that time being only a country dirt road) and that he won his bet but caused the horse to go blind. Shropshire's recollection is that my father, John E. Shropshire, bought him of Boswell, and that he knows my father sold him, and he knew the horse well while at my father's, and that he changed hands several times before his father Col. B. N. Shropshire got him, and that his father continued to own the horse till he died some time in the forties at or about 30 years old. This I feel is a correct history of old Tom Hal. Nat Shropshire says my father sold the horse to an uncle of his, Nat Shropshire, but that he changed hands again as his father bought him from one Mr. Logan. Trusting this will be satisfactory to you I am,

Yours truly, etc.,

J. H. SHROPSHIRE.

P. S. As to the horse being from Canada I know nothing, but I do recollect that about that time some of the best pacing horses in Kentucky were brought from Canada.

Wesley Warnock, of Butler, Mo., thus describes the original Tom Hal: "I first saw old Tom Hal at Georgetown, Ky., 1838, at the spring stallion show, where he showed great speed at the pace for a blind horse. He was a bay roan in color, black legs, black mane and tail, very little if any over 15 hands high, with good weight and the best quality of feet and legs. He must have been over 20 years old but do not think he lived long after that."

This last is furnished by Campbell Brown, of Tennessee, who adds: "Judge Irving Halsey in an interview with the three older sons of B. M. Shropshire fixed the death of this horse about 1844 or 1845. His most important son was Bald Stockings, called also Lail's, Clark's and Shropshire's Tom Hal."

The National Horse Breeders' Register, Vol. I., page 14, says:

"Tom Hal was a blue roan, foaled in 1802, and died at the great age of 41 years; he died at Mr. Creath Shropshire's in 1843. He was certainly the founder of the Tom Hal family of Tennessee, and the Blue Bull family of Indiana, and the noted Tom Hal saddlers of Kentucky."

The age of the horse as here given is unquestionably too great, as several of the previous estimates have been too small. We think this to be the horse bred by Vital Dupré and afterwards owned by M. Gravelin, both of St. Ours, Province of Quebec, Can., foaled about 1810, and progenitor of the Dansereau breed of trotters and pacers in Canada; a full account of which will be found in the introduction of this volume, and in Volume I. of the American Morgan Horse and Register, pages 235-280.

The character and description of the horses and quality of their get, so very marked as with difficulty to be reduplicated, together with the dates of their respective history, the one being sold from Canada to the States at about the time the other appears in Philadelphia, make it most probable that they are identical. But in any case all agree that Tom Hal belonged to the famous family of Canadian pacers and trotters, the evidence in regard to the Morgan origin of which has been deemed sufficient to warrant their insertion in this Register; and as the location and time of birth of the Gravelin Horse, which was the founder of that family, was such as to make it probable that he was got by the original Justin Morgan, or a son, we give to him, and therefore to Tom Hal, assuming them to be identical, the rating of $\frac{1}{4}$.

TOM HAL (GRAY'S) (5-64), bay; foaled about 1859; bred by the Shawhan family, and passed to William Gray, Rush County, Ind.; got by Shawhan's Tom Hal (Sorrel Tom): dam untraced.

TOM HAL (LAIL'S, BALD STOCKINGS) (1-4), chestnut with bald face and four white legs, very heavy mane and tail, 15¾ hands, 1100 pounds; foaled 1830; bred by Higgins Chin, Leesburgh, Harrison County, Ky.; got by Tom Hal, brought to Kentucky by John T. Mason: dam said to be by old Copperbottom, and 2d dam by Tarquin, thoroughbred son of imported Diomed. Owned for a time by Mr. Lail of Harrison County, Ky., and said to have been kept by John Lucas. Owned about 1850 by Edwin Clark, Kentucky. He was a horse of great constitution and it is said was never known to lie down in his stable. He is described by one who rode him as a chestnut roan of medium size, strong and a very fine saddle horse. Died about 1865.

TOM HAL (KITTRELL'S) (1-8), dark dappled bay with star, and left hind foot white, heavy mane and tail, 16 hands; foaled 1848; bred by George Coons, Leesburgh, Ky.; got by Bald Stockings, son of Boswell's Tom Hal: dam said to be by Whip Comet, son of Virginia Whip. Sold together with full brother Expert to J. N. Gaines, who sold to Simeon Kirtley who took him to Tennessee, where he was purchased about 1850 of Mr. Kirtley for $400 by Marion B. Kittrell, then of Wilson County, Tenn., and kept by him in Wilson County until 1857, when he went to Marshall County in charge of Robertson Bryant, brother-in-law to Kittrell, who made part of a season with him and sold him, 1857, to D. C. Orr, Morrisville. He sold him, fall of 1861, to Dr. Steele near Pulaski. In 1863 he was taken from Steele by Federal troops, carried to Pulaski and after being worked down was turned out on the commons and died near Pulaski, 1863. Above information is largely furnished by Campbell Brown, Spring Hill, Tenn., who also says that this Tom Hal was the fastest pacer of his day in Tennessee, so far as known, and got fast, muscular, long lived, active and fine saddle horses.

TOM HAL (SHAWHAN'S, SORREL TOM) (5-32), chestnut with blaze and four white legs; foaled about 1849; bred in Kentucky; said to be by Bald Stockings, son of Tom Hal: and dam Nell, pacer, gray, large and fast, by Caven's Blind Davy Crocket. Owned by Capt. John Shawhan, Harrison County, Ky.; who sold him, 1856, to J. M. Shawhan, of Falmouth, Ind., who sold him back, it is thought, 1858, to Capt. Shawhan. Died, 1859.

TOM HAL (SHROPSHIRE'S) (1-8), strawberry roan, black mane and tail, 16 hands, 1200 pounds; foaled 1843; bred by M. P. Shropshire, Georgetown, Ky.; got by Canadian Tom Hal. Owned by M. S. Shropshire, and later by G. W. Shropshire, Sioux City, Mo., whose property he died. Kept in Georgetown, Ky., before 1856, and then known as Logan's Tom Hal; from 1856 to 1859 in Rush County, Ind., then at Sioux City, Mo.

TOM HAL JR. (1-16), bay, stripe in face, three white feet, 15½ hands, 987 pounds; foaled May 29, 1882; bred by F. M. Fitzgerald, Carter Creek, Maury County, Tenn., got by Gibson's Tom Hal, son of Kittrell's Tom Hal: dam bay, bred by F. M. Fitzgerald, Carter Creek, Tenn., got by a son of Murrell's Copperbottom; 2d dam, bay, bred by John Fitzgerald, Thompson, Tenn., got by McMean's Traveler, son of Sach's Stump the Dealer; 3rd dam, bay, bred by W. T. Edwards, Pulaski, Tenn., got by Blackman's Sir Charles, son of Sir Charles; 4th dam bay, bred by D. F. Revier, Wiener, Tenn., got by Sir Archy. Sold to G. E. Canrib, Union City, Mich.

TOM HAL JR. (MOORE'S, GIBSON'S) (1-16), roan, 15½ hands, 1050 pounds; foaled 1862, the property of H. C. Saunders, Lewisburg, Tenn.; got by Kittrell's Tom Hal: dam Julia Johnson, roan, 15¼ hands, bred by John M. Leonard, Belfast, Tenn.; got by Adams' Stump the Dealer, a roan

Brown Hal, 2:12¹/₂, by Gibson's Tom Hal Jr.: dam by John Netherland.

Star Pointer, 1:59 $\frac{1}{4}$, by Brown Hal: dam by Snow Heels.

saddle stallion, son of Low's Stump the Dealer, by Timoleon; 2d dam, a saddle mare, said to be by a Whip horse in Bradford County. Sold when a yearling to W. Youell, who sold him when five or six to Thomas Moore, Morrisville, who owned him some 15 years. He was then purchased by Thomas Gibson, Spring Hill, Tenn., who kept him three years; then owned one year by D. B. Cooper, one by the Messrs. Polk, then by M. C. Campbell, and Campbell Brown, who sold, October 1875, to F. G. Buford, whose property he died in 1890.

Campbell Brown of Tennessee says: "He was one of the finest saddle horses and most noted prize winners of this locality. A horse of great activity, vigor, and endurance, very powerful and muscular and could pace faster than almost any horse of his day."

WILMAR (1-8), 2:29¾, foaled 1875; bred by Sprague & Akers, Lawrence, Kan.; got by Ethan Allen, son of Black Hawk, or by Rhode Island, son of Whitehall: dam Belle Brandon, dam of Wildair, which see. Sold to William Pickhardt, New York city, and kept at the Willbrook Stock Farm, Schroon Lake, N. Y. Mr. Pickhardt says the horse was sold to him as got by Rhode Island, which he thinks correct, but the catalogue of Messrs. Sprague & Akers, published just previous to their sale of May 1, 1878, gives Belle Brandon with her produce, and her colt in 1875 is there stated to be by Ethan Allen. Saunders in his Breeder's Trotting Stud Book, published 1881, gives a similar table, very probably taken from the catalogue. This catalogue, published by the breeders, is certainly prima facie evidence of the breeding of the horse.

Sold to Henry Hayward; Charles Jackson; P. C. Bradford, all of Winthrop, Me. Broke his ankle and died, 1874. General appearance good.

Sire of Lady Monmouth, dam of Sunrise Patchen, 2:19¼.

WITHERELL MESSENGER (1-8) (Rule 2), chestnut; foaled June 10, 1834; bred by Rev. S. B. Witherell, Norridgewock, Me.; got by Winthrop Messenger, probably a grandson of imported Messenger: dam light sorrel with some white hairs sprinkled in coat, bred by S. B. Witherell, got by a celebrated Morgan horse that stood in New Hampshire, understood to be Sherman Morgan, (Mr. Witherell bred this mare while returning from Massachusetts); 2d dam purchased of Jonathan Bosworth, who died in 1826, into whose barnyard she had strayed in midwinter. Owned by Mr. Fasset, Industry, Me., and afterwards by Mr. Brackett, Starks, Me., and died his property, 1859. Mr. S. B. Witherell of South Norridgewock, Me., born in 1811 and a nephew of the breeder, from whom the above information is mainly derived, writes that the dam was a well-built animal of about 1050 pounds, and of a fine, genteel movement, and the grandam a nice, round, plump mare of about 900 pounds weight that had the appearance of the Morgan breed of horses.

The following additional information is taken by permission from the history of the Morrills by Allen W. Thompson:

Draco, 2:28 $\frac{1}{2}$, by Young Morrill: dam by Josiah Hoyt Horse, son of Bailey Horse, by Woodbury Morgan.

Albert, by Pilot Duroc: dam by Morgan Messenger.

"Chanticleer was a dark bay, with star and one white hind foot; thick set; 15½ hands high, and weighed 1100 pounds. It was stated that he was a thoroughbred; that he had quite a reputation as a racer, and was bred in New York. The following is his pedigree, as given by Mr. Wallace: Sire, Duroc; dam, Queen Mab (the dam of Long's Eclipse, by Bajazet), grandam by Mercury, great-great-grandam by imported Messenger.

"Chanticleer was owned in Middletown, in 1824, by Philo Stoddard. He was kept at Barnet the season he sired the Lock Goss horse.

"Old Gin was bred by Mr. Goss' father, foaled about 1810; was a chestnut, very stout, and muscular built, though not large; smooth and handsomely made; very high-spirited; eyes and nostrils large, and seem to emit fire at times. She raised a number of foals, and, when they followed her, she was cross—a perfect terror to the children. Her foals made remarkably stout, muscular horses; two of them were worked on an eight-horse team.

"One, by Flint, or Bowers horse, was not gelded until seven years old. He was a chestnut, and inclined to be cross; he sired a few colts; his stock was not called as good as his half-brother's stock. Mr. Goss owned him at the time he was gelded. Mr. Goss' father was brother to David Goss, who owned the Justin Morgan. Young Morrill's dam was purchased, when a colt, by William Smith, of West Danville, and he sold her, when five years old, to his son, Frederick F. Smith, who owned her some seven or eight years. She resembled her sire, was a bright bay, with a large star and one white hind foot; mane and tail full and black; about 15½ hands high, and weighed 1025 pounds. She had a quick, nervous step, and was a free, fast driver. Her feet were a little pinched, from being driven too hard, when four years old.

"Young Morrill was her second foal; her first was a filly bay, like her dam, and by Simeon Harvey's chestnut Morgan horse, of South Danville. Mr. Smith bred two colts from her, by a horse he owned, that was by the Simeon Harvey horse; this horse he had gelded. He sold the filly, or swapped her, when three years old, for a wagon, and she was taken to New Hampshire, and nothing more known of her. Mr. Smith bred Young Morrill to a few mares, when two years old, and to quite a number when three years old. He sold him, the spring he was four years old, to J. S. Weeks, of Danville, for $200. The following fall he sold his farm and the rest of his horses, some ten or twelve, and went West. Young Morrill's dam and her other colts were sold at this time. Mr. Smith says he bred her but once to Old Morrill after she brought Young Morrill. This makes it that Stella, from her by Old Morrill, must have been foaled later than 1849.

"Soon after Mr. Weeks purchased Young Morrill he sold him to Jerry Drew of Danville, and Abel Giles had the care of him during the season of 1852.

"It was in the forepart of the year 1853 that French Morrill purchased Young Morrill, price stated, $500. It was understood that Mr. Morrill bought Young Morrill to sell and get him out of the way of his horse. If he was kept at Danville and vicinity he would hurt the business of his sire. Mr. Morrill kept Young Morrill with his horse the season of 1853 and gave him his name. He had been called the Fred Smith Colt.

"J. W. Carleton, in company with a friend, then of Williamstown, Vt., bought Young Morrill in the fall of 1853; price stated, $650. Mr. Carleton showed him the same fall at the New York State Fair and the Vermont State Fair, taking first premium with him. It was in the spring of 1854 that Town & Trow, of Barre, Vt., purchased Young Morrill for $1200. They showed him the following October at the New England Horse Show, at Brattleboro, Vt. The following is a copy of the statement they gave the committee:

"The Young Morrill, raised in Cabot, Vt., sired by the Old Morrill horse, owned by French Morrill, of Danville, Vt. The dam of Young Morrill is a Sherman Morgan. Young Morrill is six years old, July, 1854; weight, 1150 pounds; 16 hands high; color, dark or brown. Owned by Silas Town, Jr., and Luke Trow, Barre, Vt.

"The following is a copy of the statement describing the horse that took the premium over Young Morrill:

"Woodbury Morgan, stallion, named Cheshire Morgan, age 4 years, weight 950 pounds, height 15 hands, sired by Morgan Emperor, raised in Westminster, Mass., owned by Chas. and L. Bawker, Keene, N. H."

"Cheshire Morgan, awarded first premium, $60; his time was 3:00½.

"Young Morrill, awarded second premium, $30; his time 3:04.

"Young Morrill took the first premium, of $15, at the Vermont State Fair, at Rutland, in 1855, in the Bulrush Morgan class. At the National Horse Show at Boston, October, 1855, he took the first premium of $200 in the class for horses for general use.

"A company at Manchester, N. H., bought Young Morrill about 1857; price stated, $4400. About 1859 Young Morrill passed into the possession of S. R. Perkins, of Manchester, N. H. He was kept at Philadelphia, Pa., the season of 1862. The season of 1880 he sired a few colts, was sent to Iowa the following autumn, and died there in November, 1880."

YOUNG SHERMAN MORGAN (1-4), brown, 15 hands ; foaled 1831 ; bred in Littleton, N. H. ; said to be by Sherman Morgan : dam an English mare. He was advertised as follows, 1839 :

Who wants to raise a fine horse? Young Sherman Morgan. At great expense the subscriber has procured one of the best colts of Old Sherman now alive ; bred in Littleton, N. H., out of an English mare, by Sherman Morgan, is eight years old this grass ; 15 hands, color a rich mud brown, head small with expanded forehead, eyes large, bold and prominent (a sure indication of blood) and a vigorous constitution, crest thin, elastic and well raised, body round and ribbed well to the stifle joints, short and erect, especially at the pasterns, with fine flowing mane and tail. In short if any man has a desire to see a fac-simile of the famous Andalusian horse he has now an opportunity.

Cock of the Rock, also a son of Old Sherman, has stood in this place. His colts are now four years old. I may safely challenge a comparison with the same number of colts of any other horse.

Young Sherman Morgan will stand at L. Farr's stable, Brattleboro, and in Guilford.

TROTTERS

WITH RECORDS OF 2:30 OR BETTER, REGISTERED OR ELIGIBLE TO REGISTRY IN THE AMERICAN MORGAN REGISTER.

THE following table of Morgan trotters, registered in and eligible to registry under the rules of the American Morgan Register, is continued from page 449 to Volume III.

This has been made necessary because of its very great length, and in order to make room for the tables of Morgan Brood Mares, which have produced 2:30 performers trotting, or 2:25 pacing, and of extreme speed in Morgan lines, which follow; these last two tables having been carefully prepared by Col. Walter T. Chester, for many years connected with the editorial staff of the Turf, Field and Farm, New York, and author of Chester's Complete Trotting and Pacing Record.

We realized that the list of 2:30 trotters eligible to registration in this register would be large, but were not at all prepared for its great proportion. For the table as given, although it comprises 35 pages, and includes 311 trotters, has exhausted only the letter A, and it has become very evident that, when completed, it will include from 4,000 to 6,000 trotters, and require four or five hundred pages, more or less—nearly a book in itself. It was, too, our intention to give a table of pacing performers, having records of 2:25 or better, which will doubtless be equally large.

These numbers mean that about one-third of 2:30 performers, trotting, or 2:25 pacing, as recorded, are eligible to this register; but the pedigrees of nearly all are incomplete, and of many scarcely given at all. Were they complete, the number eligible, we think, would be one-half, and very probably more than that.

We think this a very creditable showing for one family, and the more so that there has been very little effort made to breed speed in Morgan lines, or to develop Morgan trotters. In other words, it is the natural result of the innate quality of the Morgan horse to contribute his part to trotting and pacing speed.

- RANCHO DEL PASO, Aug. 3, 1891.
- MR. BATTALL,
- Dear Sir:—The Lamott mare, second dam of Albert W., was a bay mare with some white, 15 $\frac{1}{4}$ hands high, and very lengthy; was brought to California in 1857 or '58, and was purchased by Mr. Lamott, a hatter of Sacramento; she could trot in 2:40, but trotted no races I know of, except to buggy with Mr. Lamott's friends, for a supper, in which she came out victorious. In 1865 I booked this mare to Geo. M. Patchen Jr., but the mare being unfit to move to San Mateo where the horse stood, I advised Lamott to breed her to John Nelson, who made the season of 1865 in Sacramento in charge of William Renwick. In 1866 she foaled ch. f. Aurora, 2:27 $\frac{1}{2}$, on half-mile track. In 1867 she was again bred to John Nelson, and the produce was ch. f. Sister; she had other foals by Primus. The mare and all her produce passed into the hands of Mr. Brown of Sherman Island, who sold Aurora to Mr. Houston of Houston, Hastings & Co., San Francisco. Sister was sold to E. B. Pond, ex-mayor of San Francisco, from whom I purchased her. In 1877 I bred Sister to Electioneer and the produce was Albert W. Her next produce was a filly by Electioneer; and the next a colt, Bonanza, 2:29 $\frac{1}{2}$, by Arthurton. Her last foal was a filly by Nutwood, now owned by William Corbitt, San Mateo, Cal. Very truly, JOHN MACKEY.

JOSEPH BATTELL, MIDDLEBURY, VT.,

HOWARD, KAN., Jan. 22, 1904.

Sir:—I send you a history of Askey, 2:08 $\frac{1}{4}$, as requested. I first started Askey as a two-year-old, winning two races in straight heats, when he broke down in the left hind leg. I then started him again in 1897 in six races; he won them all in straight heats, getting a mark of 2:20 $\frac{3}{4}$, at Wichita, Kan. In 1898 I first started at Jackson, Mich.; won in straight heats, half-mile track, in 2:18 $\frac{1}{2}$. The next week, at Windsor, Canada, he won in straight heats in 2:13 $\frac{1}{4}$. The next week, at Highland Park, Detroit, he won in straight heats in 2:11 $\frac{1}{4}$. The next, at Gross Point, he won the first heat in the mud; then, throwing a shoe, was shut out. The next week I started him at Cleveland; won second money in 2:09 $\frac{1}{4}$. I then sold Askey to Mr. R. C. Rowlings, who started Askey at Dubuque and Independence, Ia., and Terre Haute, Ind., winning all three races, losing but one heat, and got a mark of 2:08 $\frac{1}{4}$. He then started at Louisville, Ky., in the Douglas stake; Askey won the second heat in 2:09, and was beaten the third heat in 2:08 $\frac{1}{4}$ by John Noland. Noland won the race, this being the fastest five-heat race ever trotted at that time. Mr. R. C. Rawlings sold Askey at the blue ribbon sale at Cleveland in the spring of 1899 for \$7,500, Askey having showed a quarter at that time and place in 29 $\frac{1}{2}$ seconds. Mr. John Wright drove Askey in all of his races while I owned him.

Yours respectfully,

HENRY BRUCE.

ADDENDA.

WHEN inserting the pictures of Ethan Allen and Goldsmith's Maid, which appear in this book, and which we obtained from Schreiber of Philadelphia, most of whose pictures are very excellent, we supposed them to be photographed from life, the same as those of Lou Dillon and General Gates, but we find that they were not. Had we known this, we would not have inserted either picture, as it is very evident that these two pictures do not do credit at all to the horses.

Although living for many years near where Ethan Allen was bred, and although having frequently seen his sire, Black Hawk, we do not certainly remember of having seen Ethan Allen. But we did see and studied very carefully Goldsmith's Maid in a visit to the Fashion Stud Farm, Trenton, N. J. In regard to the last, there could hardly be any greater contrast than that between the picture of Goldsmith's Maid, supposed to be in racing form, in this book, and Goldsmith's Maid which we saw in life at the Fashion Stud Farm. How much this is due to the different conditions of the mare, we do not know; but it seems to us now that the supposed photograph must be in the nature of a caricature. The mare we saw and studied so carefully for some little time was under, rather than over, 15½ hands, not at all leggy, but substantially made, with full breast, somewhat long for her height, of handsomely rounded conformation, good neck and head, and in every way an honest, home-spun, well-appearing all-around mare, equally good to draw the plow or the sulky.

PUBLISHED BY THE AMERICAN PUBLISHING COMPANY
MIDDLEBURY, VERMONT.

The Morgan Horse and Register, Vols. I. and II. By Joseph Battell. One thousand and eight hundred pages respectively. Handsomely illustrated. Price of Vol. I. $5.00, Vol. II. $4.00, or $8.00 for both volumes, postage prepaid.

THE MORGAN HORSE AND REGISTER, VOL. III., is well under way. It will consist largely of registered horses of both sexes.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS ON VOL. I.

"THE MORGAN HORSE—WILL BE A STANDARD WORK.—"The Morgan Horse" is the title of a new book on this noted breed of horses. The preface shows the scope and aim of the work, which is largely to show what has been done by breeding carefully. The breeder works upon two principles, or rather two laws, so well known that any raiser of any kind of stock cannot afford to disregard them. These laws are heredity and prepotency, the latter being the power which exists very strongly in certain animals to stamp certain qualities upon their offspring. This book gives the results obtained by attention to these laws. It is well written in an interesting manner, if one may judge from advance sheets, and all horse breeders will find this work on "The Morgan Horse" to be of much value. This book will be considered a standard work.

The object of the work is to establish upon a scientific basis a breed of American horses especially adapted to road and family use. Everybody interested in the best road and family horses ever produced will be interested in this work.—[The Homestead.

Mr. Battell has been engaged in the preparation of this work, with able assistance, since 1884. Like the loyal Vermonter that he is, Mr. Battell is a firm believer in the Morgan horse as possessing both in present attainment and future promise the very best qualities of form, style, intelligence, beauty and speed of which horse-flesh is capable, and he enthusiastically looks to see a Morgan horse lower the race record to two minutes. "Not the fastest horse," he says, however, "but the best horse should be the object of breeding," and it is to produce this horse as a type, "so that in every colt we shall be reasonably sure to get the horse we want," that the Morgan Register has been established. In addition to the points here suggested, the preface, of which we have received advanced pages, discusses the law of heredity or inheritance, as seen in horse-breeding, and that more subtle quality or influence of prepotency which all scientific breeders recognize, though it cannot be definitely defined. The appearance of Mr. Battell's book will be awaited with interest by all horsemen.—[Brattleboro (Vt.) Phoenix.

We have received from the author, Mr. Joseph Battell of Middlebury, Vt., advance sheets of his forthcoming book, which has been so long looked for. Much valuable and indispensable information will be contained in its pages, as in its compilation, extending over a period of nearly ten years, over fifty thousand letters have been written and Mr. Battell has personally visited most of the States of the Union, and some of them several times, and made repeated excursions into the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario and also visited Mexico. Neither trouble nor expense has been spared to learn all pertinent facts concerning every pedigree. No such persistent effort has ever been made by any compiler, and an invaluable mass of information has been the result.—[Turf, Farm and Home, Waterville, Me.

VOL. I. of Battell's Morgan Horse and Register has at last been issued. It is a volume of more than a thousand pages, and no more beautiful press work has ever been seen. The volume shows a vast amount of research and personal investigation. It contains a great deal which has never before been published, and will probably lead to endless discussion. * * * The portraits of Denning Allen, the Farnaughts, Lord Clinton and others are gems of art and beauty.

But pictures do not make books, and Mr. Battell's Register is one of the most valuable of recent acquisitions to equine literature, one that should be in the library of every horseman and every student of the breeding problem. No one before has attempted a work of such magnitude, nor has endeavored to get at the evidence on which is based the many beliefs as to the ancestry of many famous ones, and while it may surprise some to find in the first volume the claim that Seely's American Star and old Pacing Pilot are direct descendants of Justin Morgan, it must be admitted the evidence given is quite as conclusive as that upon which is based the claim that their ancestry is in other lines.—[Clark's Horse Review.]

We acknowledge the receipt of The Morgan Horse and Register, containing the history and pedigree of Justin Morgan, founder of this remarkable American breed of horses, and of his best known sons and grandsons. It is a magnificent work and reflects great credit on the author, Mr. Joseph Battell. The articles relative to the old Canadian stock are particularly instructive, and all horsemen in this part of the country should avail themselves of the chance to study up the history of Pilot, old St. Lawrence, La Bonte Horse, Dansereau, Live Oak and others.—[Canadian Breeder.]

The Morgan Horse and Register is the latest and one of the most valuable contributions to horse literature that we have had the pleasure of examining. * * *

It has generally been conceded by those who have studied the subject carefully that the family of horses founded by Justin Morgan has never been equalled as roadsters and for general purposes where animals of heavy weight were not required. * * *

The most surprising pedigree in the work is that of Seely's American Star. It has long been claimed by those who had investigated the matter carefully that he could not have been by Stockholm's American Star, which appeared as his sire in the earlier volumes of Wallace's Trotting Register. Probably Mr. Battell spent more time and money carefully investigating this pedigree and collecting facts in regard to it, than any other in the work, and he has been amply rewarded. After giving the facts fully upon which he bases the pedigree, Mr. Battell gives the breeding of this renowned brood-mare sire as follows:

AMERICAN STAR (SEELY'S).

Chestnut or sorrel, with star, hind feet white, 15½ hands, 1050 pounds; foaled 1837; bred by Henry H. Berry, Pompton Plains, N. J.; got by Coburn's American Star, son of Cock of the Rock, by Sherman Morgan: dam bay, stripe in face, about 16 hands, a used-up stage mare purchased in New York city by Mr. Berry at a small price to work in team, breeding entirely unknown.

The chapters on Justin Morgan and Seely's American Star are alone worth twice the cost of the book. There is also a very interesting chapter on Pilot, sire of Pilot Jr. Mr. Battell traced this horse through all the hands he passed until he located him in Montreal, and there is little doubt that he traced him from that point to his breeder. We are glad to learn from the author that the work is selling rapidly.—[American Horse Breeder.]

LEXINGTON, MASS.

JOSEPH BATTELL, ESQ.,

My Dear Sir:—Your valued favor is received; also Vol. I. of the Morgan Horse and Register. As the book was received this morning, I have had little time to read it. It is very handsome and I was particularly pleased with the chapters on the Stars, Pilot, the pacers and the breeding of the original Morgan. I do not see but your claim is admirably sustained.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD S. PAYSON.

No publication upon the horse of recent years has awakened so great a public interest as this volume bearing the authorship of Mr. Battell of Vermont.—[Mirror and Farmer, Manchester, N. H.]

We have received from Mr. Joseph Battell of Middlebury, Vt., the first volume of his new work, The Morgan Horse and Register. It is, mechanically, a very fine job: fine paper, elegant binding and illustrations, many of them half-tones from photographs, and on fine plate paper, all go to make it an ornament, in the book line, fit for the parlor table. It contains 1000 pages. Whatever adds to the sum of human knowledge in any special line is invaluable and to the specialist indispensable, and Mr. Battell's book should contain within its covers very much that is not only new but important. * * * Probably no man living, in a whole lifetime, ever traveled the distance in pursuit of information, wrote the letters, or spent the hours in historical research that the author of this work has done in the last ten years, and the result is embodied in this volume. * * * Truly "Truth lies at the bottom of the well," and Mr. Battell has gone deeper after it, stayed under longer, and come to the surface with more facts in his grasp than any other writer on the subject. It is a great work, and we have had no time as yet to master its contents, but as time occurs shall refer to it again and again. * * * [J. W. Thompson, author of Maine Bred Horses.]

THE HORSEMAN, CHICAGO, ILL.

MR. JOSEPH BATTELL,

My Dear Sir:—The complimentary copy of The Morgan Horse and Register which you are good enough to send me came safely to hand. It is by long odds the most complete and comprehensive work of the kind ever issued, and all the friends and breeders of the Morgan horse owe you a life-long debt of gratitude for your painstaking labor in the field of your choice. It is not only of special value to Morgan horse breeders, but to all others engaged in the light harness horse industry. The illustrations serve a very good purpose and the makeup of the book renders it an ornament to any library. I will give it careful public review at the first chance. Meantime, with best wishes, I am

Yours sincerely,

E. C. WALKER. "Veritas."

ANNOUNCEMENT.

WE take this opportunity to announce that an exhaustive history of the more prominent stallions of America, from the earliest times to the present, which we have been engaged upon now for some 20 years, is rapidly approaching completion. We shall hope to issue the first volume in 1906. This work is the result of the most thorough, independent investigation, and when finished will include all the more important stallions which have contributed to the formation of the American roadster, both trotter and pacer. Included with these will be many thoroughbred stallions, both imported, and those bred in America. These are added, not because they are runners, but because they enter into the pedigrees of the American road horse.

In this work a very large number of errors, which have crept into preceding works on the Horse, will be corrected, and the evidence given upon which these corrections are made. We are happy to say also that we have been able to trace out many pedigrees hitherto obscure or unknown, and some of them of very great importance, included among which is that of the dam of Black Hawk; also new information regarding Belle of Wabash, more complete than, and antedating, any hitherto published.

This work, to a certain extent, will be a companion piece of the Morgan Register, the rating of Morgan blood in the different stallions being given so far as known. But it will also be complete in itself, including the principal stallions of all families, and by far the most convenient and valuable work of reference upon American stallions which has yet been published. It will consist of at least four and perhaps five volumes of 800 pages each, and will be extensively illustrated and firmly bound, like this volume, in three-quarter leather.
